MacArthur Calls for Tough U.S. Policy Toward Red China

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur declares that U. S. threat to strike at Red China might force Russia to settle the Korean War "and all other pending global issues on equitable terms."

Vigorously renewing the controversial program which led in part to his ouster by former President Truman as the Allies' Far East commander, MacArthur said in a letter made public today:

"We still possess the potential to destroy Red China's flimsy industrial base and sever her tenuous supply lines from the Soviet . . .

"A warning of action of this sort provides the leverage to induce the Soviet to bring the Korean struggle to an end without further bloodshed."

Possible Debacle

Such a threat, MacArthur said in a letter dated April 19 and addressed to Sen. Byrd (D-Va), would face the Communists with a possible "Red China debacle." When the Soviet saw the U. S. had "the will and the means," he said, it "might well settle" Korea and all other world issues equitably.

He declared he was sure it would not lead to World War III.

MacArthur blamed "the inertia of our diplomacy" for throwing away what he called "the golden moment" to achieve peace after he had badly beaten the North Koreans in October, 1951.

Not only was this opportunity thrown away, he said, but a failure to capitalize on the situation contributed to the entry of the Chinese Communists in the fighting, creating what he termed "the new war."

Reds Felt Safe

He wrote that normally the Chinese would not have dared to risk entry into the war, but that "by one process or another it was conjectured by, or conveyed to, the Red Chinese" that their territory would be designated as sanctuary free from U. S. attack.

MacArthur agreed with Byrd, who had written asking his comments, that there were ammunition shortages in Korea. He said the late Gen. Walton Walker's Eighth Army was once down to "five rounds per gun."

The 1,200 word letter lashed out at former Secretary of the Army Frank Pace, who told senators April 9 that MacArthur thought in 1950 the war would be over by that December.

MacArthur asserted Pace had made "a labored effort" to link him with the "ammunition shortage in Korea during the last two years since I left there."

"Completely fantastic," MacArthur said.

Byrd Seeks Data

Byrd, in his letter dated April 13, told MacArthur the Senate armed services subcommittee of which he is a member is trying to find out why, as it has agreed, there were ammunition shortages in Korea.

Byrd said the subcommittee found shortages of ammunition existed for two years after the war began and shooting there "very dangerously" depleted the nation's ammunition stockpile. Byrd asked for comment on this, plus Pace's testimony that MacArthur had expected an early end to the war.

MacArthur referred to his program of striking at the Chinese mainland—a program which former President Truman opposed as potentially leading to worldwide conflict. Truman's ouster of MacArthur two years ago for "insubordination" led to a lengthy and spectacular investigation in the Senate.

Doesn't Say How

The general did not say how the U. S. should hit Red China, but he recalled that Washington officials vetoed his proposals early in 1951 to bomb Chinese supply bases, establish a naval blockade of China, and use Chinese nationalist troops from Formosa.

This destruction, he said, would deny Red China "the resource to support modern war and sustain large military forces in the field."

"This in turn would greatly weaken the Communist government of China and threaten the Soviet's present hold upon Asia," he said, adding:

"It (Russia) would dread risking the eventuality of a Red China debacle, and such a hazard might well settle the Korean War and all other pending global issues on equitable terms just as soon as it realizes we have the will and the means to bring them to a prompt and definite determination."

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Thursday approved the nomination of Lester J. Cecil of Dayton, O., as U. S. judge for the Southern Ohio district. Cecil, nominated by President Eisenhower, succeeds the late Robert R. Nevin.

Scrap Labor Legislation, Lewis Asks

Miners' Chief Wants Both Wagner Act, Taft-Hartley Killed

WASHINGTON (AP)—John L. Lewis asked Congress today to strike from the law books "lock, stock and barrel" all labor laws passed in the last 21 years.

The burly mine workers chief, in a prepared statement, told the Senate Labor Committee:

"This proposal is seriously made. The ever rising tide of industrial strife in recent years and the repeated governmental interferences . . . under existing law and the bitterness engendered thereby in all segments of our population justify the Congress in stripping the statute books of both the Wagner and Taft-Hartley Acts."

That would leave two basic laws dealing with organized labor—the 1932 Norris-Laguardia Act and the 1914 Clayton Act.

The Taft-Hartley Law, passed in 1947 to supersede the 1935 Wagner Act is now up for possible revision before the Senate and House Labor Committees. Most of organized labor favored the Wagner Act and wanted it kept on the books.

No matter how amended, Lewis said, the Taft-Hartley Act will remain "a thorn and a spear in the side of American labor." He added:

"A liberal application of cologne or a generous sprinkling of 'Chanel No. 5' cannot and will not deodorize an otherwise odorous creature...."

The law, Lewis said, "is a specie of fraud on not only labor unions but upon the country at large."

The Norris-LaGuardia Act limited the use of injunctions—court orders which forbid certain types of conduct—in work disputes. The Clayton Anti-Trust Act attempted to exempt labor unions from prosecution by declaring that labor is

Defy Shore Batteries To Rescue Wounded On Harbor Island

SEOUL (AP)—Four U. S. warships steamed through a bombardment from Communist shore batteries today in a bold operation to rescue wounded men from an Allied-held island at the entrance to Wonsan harbor.

There was no report whether the ships were hit or whether the mission was successful, but the Navy said the ships and supporting Navy Pantherjets silenced the Red guns.

The ships were the light cruiser Manchester and destroyers Owen, Henderson and Epperson.

In the air, Capt. Joseph McConnell, a Sabre jet pilot from Apple Valley, Calif., was credited with downing his 10th Red MIG to become the Allies' fifth double jet ace. He also damaged another.

Another MIG was damaged by 2nd Lt. Douglas A. Lockwood Jr., of Winter Haven, Fla., the Air Force said.

"Old Boys" Tell of Death Marches

Liberated Yanks Bring Back Bitter Memories

FREEDOM VILLAGE (AP)—Some Americans captured early in the Korean War came back today, bringing bitter memories of a valley where 260 of 300 U. N. prisoners died...of a long march which claimed 400 lives...and of more than two years of misery.

Most of the Americans freed yesterday by the Reds had been recently wounded. But many of the 40 who came back today were the "old boys" swept up in the fall of 1950.

Time hadn't dimmed their memory of death marches over frozen North Korean highways, of hunger, brutality and poor medical treatment. And one returning prisoner told of tiny cages where men were ents had shrapnel wounds in one leg when he made the march.

He looked in good condition today. Asked if the Reds made any attempt to indoctrinate him, he replied:

"I most certainly would say they did. It was well planned."

Pfc. James R. Dunn of Anderson, S. C., said the Reds left him by the side of a road to die.

Ten days after his capture, Dunn said, he was wounded by an Allied air strike. The Chinese pulled out and "left me and another guy alongside the road. The next day the other guy died.'

Six days later some Chinese picked him up and, although he

Exchange Should Be Continuous, Says Rear Adm. Daniel

PANMUNJOM (AP)—The United Nations today sought an indefinite extension of the exchange of sick and wounded prisoners of the Korean War as 40 more Americans returned to freedom.

The 40 brought the total of Americans liberated in the past five days to 119—one short of the 120 promised originally by the Reds.

However, in keeping with a promise made Thursday, the Communists said 17 more Americans "not a commodity."

Lewis' union has been the target three times of the Taft-Hartley Act's 80-day, no-strike provision for use in a national emergency dispute.

"It can be categorically stated," he said, "that in each year when strikes have occurred the coal production was greater than in the years in which there were no strikes."

He said this "negates completely the hue and cry of national emergencies" and added that the nation "has never suffered irreparable injury from deprivation of coal."

Lewis said the present law's "fundamental evils" cannot be cured by amendment.

Club To Collect Clothing For Refugees

Marion Rotary Club members will conduct a clothing drive Saturday in Marion for garments for people of Holland and refugees of Russian zone of Germany who are moving to the American zone.

The drive is a program of the International Rotary and similar drives will be carried on all over the world at the same time. It is the first one of its kind.

Although the drive was designated mainly for Rotary members, Ralph Howard, who is chairman of the drive, explained that Rotary members have been told to contact neighbors about the drive. He said anyone is welcome to donate clothing and those wishing to do so can notify him tonight at his home.

Six Rotary members in three trucks will canvass the homes of Rotarians beginning early Saturday morning. Rotary members have been notified to clean out

Rail Strike Set 6 A.M. Saturday

CLEVELAND (AP)—Unless President Eisenhower steps into the dispute, the Brotherhood of Railroad trainmen plans to strike the Nickel Plate Road at 6 a. m. EST Saturday.

The President can stop it by calling in a fact - finding board, which would postpone the strike 60 days until the board made recommendations.

The BRT, seeking to settle a number of grievances, set the strike date after mediation talks broke off Tuesday. If it materializes, the strike would idle 16,000 NKP employes in Ohio, New York, Indiana, Pennsylvania and Illinois.

Be Organized

Adults Backing Project Of Teen Club Plan Meeting Wednesday

Decision to form a non-profit corporation to promote and operate a community swimming pool in Marion was made last night at a meeting of 47 representatives of service clubs, PTA's, fraternal organizations, labor unions, industrial firms, banking institutions, and the Teen Club, originators of the swimming pool movement.

The meeting was held in the Moose Lodge clubrooms. It was called by a steering committee of adults who have pledged their help to the city's teen-agers in the pool project.

By-laws of the adult organization and incorporation papers will be presented for approval at a meeting next Wednesday night in the Moose clubrooms. The steering committee, headed by Jack Cress of the Ohio Sprinkler Co., one of the first adults to offer assistance, has issued a call for all groups interested in the pool to send representatives. The meeting will begin at 8 p.m.

The swimming pool movement has gained considerable momentum since being launched a month ago by students in State Street Junior High School. It rapidly attracted the support of teen agers in other schools and soon adult organizations began offering assistance.

While first envisioned by some of the teen-agers as a pool of their own, built with money earned in their own fund-raising projects, the scope of the project was later enlarged to cover the whole community.

Now the goal is a community pool, with contributions welcomed from organizations and individuals throughout the community.

Already some $6,000 has been pledged to a pool fund and business places have offered to supply nearly all the materials needed at cost, Marshall Browne, publicity chairman of the committee report-

As Frightened

Malenkov, Beria Place Populace Under Iron Rule

A rising tempo of oppressive measures against workers and farmers in the Soviet hinterland indicates that a frightened regime sits in power in the Kremlin today

Communist party leaders have been instructed to tighten the screws on workers and peasants in all the 16 Soviet republics to wring out a maximum of production at a minimum of cost. And the Soviet press makes it clear that these orders extend to satellite Eastern Europe.

That is not the only sign of uneasiness in the Kremlin. Apparently the purge is continuing—a purge of unreconstructed Stalinists. They are being lopped from responsible party and government positions.

At the same time, security measures have been tightened everywhere, with Russians taking over the chief police posts from men of other nationalities in the republics outside the big Russian Soviet Federated Socialist Republic.

The impression is that Premier Georgi Malenkov and police czar Lavrenty Beria, his first deputy, are working in concert to bolster their power. The best information is this: So long as Malenkov remains in the top post, Beria is safe, and so long as Beria remains in the No. 2 spot, Malenkov is safe—the two are mutually dependent, one upon the other.

The tightening of the security forces began before Stalin died. This slipped through Soviet censor-gled in bitter, small-scale fights.

The Eighth Army said 14 Red probes, the highest number in a month, hit Allied positions. Sixteen U. N. patrols reported skirmishes.

South Korean raiders killed or wounded 69 Chinese in a bloody small-arms fight near Christmas Hill on the Eastern Front, the Army said.

South of Panmunjom, where disabled war prisoners are being exchanged, an Allied outpost beat off two assaults by an estimated 70 to 80 Chinese. The Reds left seven dead.

The Eighth Army said Red casualteis inflicted by Allied ground troops in the week ended Tuesday totaled 3,534 including 1,780 killed. Most were credited to the U. S. 7th Division.

Dulles Prods NATO To Act On Defense

PARIS (AP)—Spurred on by the United States, the North Atlantic Treaty Organization formally requested five of its members to come to a quick agreement with West Germany to create the proposed European Army.

Even as the Allied leaders acted, the upper house of the West German Parliament defied Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and voted to postpone its decision on whether to ratify the army treaty which would put half a million German soldiers into the two-million-man one-uniform force.

NATO'S request for early ratification came from the organization's top council the Foreign, defense and finance ministers of the 14 member nations—in a secret out of the way at Communist lectures."

The men were pale and some were emaciated. They limped or were carried from Communist ambulances.

But even the most seriously hurt tried to smile and answer questions during this first stop on their long trip home.

Today's group of 40 Americans was the biggest returned by the Reds since the exchange began Monday. It boosted to 119 the number liberated.

Some said they were treated all right. But Pfc. Wayne Huebener of Franklin, N. H., found his captors brutal. He related in a calm voice:

"I have actually seen only one man killed. One of our fellows was carrying him and sort of went out of his head. The man fell off this guy's back and we tried to help him up again. He couldn't get up. A Chinese guard hit him in the back with the butt of his rifle and pushed him off the mountain side.

Huebener was captured April 25, 1951. He said he was suffering from skin disease and bad teeth.

Another soldier told of a death march in which 400 captives of the Communists died. Pvt. Paul E. Clements, 24, from Indianapolis, said the death march took place in the bitter cold between December 3-26, 1950.

"About 1,200 started out," he said, "and close to 400 died."

Clements said the men died from the bitter cold and wounds. Clements was captured Nov. 30, 1950. He said the men had only field jackets and thin fatigue clothes—American winter supplies had not reached the front. It was then that the United Nations was rushing pell mell toward the Yalu River.

Clements said he thought the Americans on the march died mostly because of their physical condition rather than from the cruelty of the Red guards. Clem-

Good News Relayed to 40 More American Families

By The Associated Press

The McMahons and the Abrahams, the Franklins and the Contrearas—they're all celebrating the repatriation of their soldiers.

The return of 40 more American prisoners of war by the Communists in Korea last night brought exuberant shouts and tears—of joy—from their homes in this country.

And the freed veterans come from all kinds of homes—in big cities, on farms, in small towns. But the reaction was much the same everywhere:

"It just doesn't seem possible! Thank God, he's saved! It's the best news we've ever had."

A reporter put in a telephone call to Altoona, a small town in Northeast Alabama, to relay word to Mrs. Vaner Cox her son, Pfc. Tally Cox, 18, had been freed.

The Coxes live on a farm near town but don't have a telephone. So Altoona Mayor Tom Bradford hurried Mrs. Cox to the telephone in his car.

"Read me his serial number," Mrs. Cox said tensely.

"RA 14 348 432," the reporter replied.

"Yes, that's him," Mrs. Cox cried.

Her son had been reported missing Dec. 1, 1950. She said she had two letters from him before Christmas and one since.

"He's going to have a wonderful time when he gets here," said Mrs. Cox. "We'll see to that."

In Sisseton, S. D., Mrs. Mary Abraham, a widow, learned her son, Ulysses K. Abraham, a pris-

He is suffering from heart trouble. His condition was reported by the hospital today as "fair."

Dr. Bull Heads Marion Twp. Zoning Group

Dr. J. W. Bull was elected temporary chairman of the Marion Township zoning commission at an organizational meeting Thursday night with township trustees in the township hall at 115½ S. Main St.

The zoning group was created Monday night by trustees for the purpose of setting up zoning rules governing use of non-agricultural land in the township. Other members named to serve on the zoning commission in addition to Dr. Bull at the Monday meeting were Ferdinand Lawrence, Howard Click, Clyde Beaver and Reid Epley.

At last night's meeting Carl Secrest was appointed to the commission to take the place of Epley who said he was unable to serve on the commission. Secrest was elected temporary secretary of the group.

The commission last night decided to conduct a study of the desirability, methods and scope of zoning, Dr. Bull reported. For this purpose the commission plans to meet each Thursday night in the township hall.

Any zoning rules formulated by the commission will be subject to approval by the township trustees and the voters of the township.

would be included in the 100 Allied troops returned Saturday. The Reds said four more British, four Turks and 75 South Koreans also would be exchanged then.

The Reds have returned 500 Allied prisoners, as scheduled. They have receiver 2,499 Communist disabled, including 700 Chinese at a rate of 500 a day except for today, when one North Korean refused to return.

The U. N. will return 500 more Reds Saturday.

In another tent at this neutral zone, liaison officers met for the second time this week. The Communists asked a one-day postponement of the resumption of full-scale armistice negotiations which had been slated for Saturday.

They said there were administrative reasons and Rear Adm. John C. Daniel, chief U. N. liaison officer, readily agreed.

He promised the Reds they could expect "an increase over our original estimate" of 5,800 Red sick and wounded to be returned.

The Communists promised to give back "all" Allied sick and wounded, including those captured recently.

Daniel told the Communists that under the Geneva Convention, return of sick and wounded prisoners was intended to be a continuing process.

"We note with gratification," said Daniel, "the indication given by your side . . . that all sick and injured captured personnel in your custody will be repatriated under the current agreement without regard to the previous estimates which you have furnished.

"I should like to reiterate that this is in complete accordance with our previous request that the most liberal criteria be used in determining eligibility .... Our side is following this practice. We anticipate that it will result in an increase over our original estimate."

The Communists issued no formal statement in the eight-minute meeting.

The U. N. Command holds an estimated 200 more Chinese sick and wounded, above the 700 already repatriated. The number of extra North Koreans is not known to correspondents.

Navy Fears Plane Carrying 5 Lost

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—A Navy plane with five aboard is missing and believed to have crashed in the ocean of nearby Point Loma.

The Coast Guard said a Point Loma resident reported hearing a plane dive and crash about 11 o'clock Thursday night. This was shortly after the Navy R-4D two-engine passenger plane took off from the Naval Air Station here.

Planes searching the area today spotted a life jacket on the weater but no wreckage.

Young Doe, First One Reported in Midtown Area, Sighted by Many

Deer Eyes Downtown Traffic, Heads for Woods

The first deer ever reported in the downtown business section of Marion apparently was frightened by heavy traffic this morning and headed back for the outskirts of the city.

The young deer was sighted for an instant this morning around 7:40 within half a block of the center of the business section. It was seen in the center of N. State St. just opposite The Star building.

Wilson Ishida of 400 E. Fairground St., saw the deer walk from an alley opposite the newspaper office. It walked into State St. and then rushed back into the alley as traffic picked up.

Ishida and Miss Kathryn Dunn, telephone operator for The Star, reported the deer was last seen heading east through an alley.

A FEW MINUTES prior to being seen on State St. the animal was seen by Mrs. Carson Cook standing in front of her home at 131 Uhler Ave. She described it as being about four feet tall. The animal left her yard and headed north on Uhler Ave., toward the business area.

About the same time Ishida and Miss Dunn spotted the deer, a resident of the Garfield Park area called The Star to report seeing the deer near her home around 7 a.m. It apparently had wandered inside the city limits at about that time.

Marion police reported they had received several calls from residents reporting seeing a deer "walking around" in yards and streets.

BY MIDMORNING, the animal, keeping away from heavy traffic, had worked its way into the western section of the city. It had been reported on Monroe St., just north of Silver St.

The small deer was described by most viewers as a fawn but several persons definitely identified it as a doe.

Several deer have been sighted in Marion County during recent years and a few have ventured into the city. However, this is believed to be the first ever to make its way into the business section. Others have ventured just inside the city limits and then rushed back to the safety of the country area.

POLICE WERE unable to do much about the wandering deer. A department spokesman said the only action they could take would be to attempt to drive the animal back into the country. It apparently was wandering in an aimless manner in search of a route out of the city. Police considered contacting the county game protector in order to make sure the deer leaves the city unharmed.

By Inez Robb

Miss Ruth Norton, Supervisor of Public Relations, American Museum of Natural History, New York, 24, N. Y.:

INEZ ROBB

Dear Miss Norton: I regret to say that your kind invitation to attend the thirty-third annual meting of the American Society of Ichthyologists and Herpetologists, even now meeting at the museum, has just come to hand.

Previous engagements, mainly to drink lemon squash with various members of the American Newspaper Publishers' Association, who have been meeting in New York, prevented my attendance at the museum, and — entre nous — it makes me heartsick!

I NOTE from the program attached to your kind invitation that one of the topics to be discussed is "The Life History of the Slimy Salamander," a subject, oddly enough, in which I have had a life long interest.

I have heard in strictest confidence that the distaff side of the salamander family, no matter what Benevenuto Cellini says in his "Autobiography" (and a fine one he is to talk!), is tres gai and sometimes known as the forever amber of the animal kingdom.

So if the paper on the slimy salamander is up to scratch, if you dig me, do not hesitate t8 mail it in a plain wrapper to my usual address.

By the way, skip the papers on "The Anatomical Distinctions Among Three North American Species of Sturgeon"—I don't even like it when it's smoked.

DO LET ME know what the scientists decide about the checkered adder, sometimes known, as you point out in one of your educational releases, as "a blowing viper, a puff adder, a spread head or a sand piper." As you so properly add, this checkered adder isn't even an adder but "a harmless hognose snake."

As you further point out, "The American Society of Ichthyologists and Herpetologists hopes to clear up a little of this confusion at its 33rd meeting." And, land sakes! I certainly hope they succeed, including what they call themselves.

Just tell the boys for me that a hongose snake, an icthyologist or a herpetologist by any other name, etc, etc, etc.

ONLY A vitally important lemon squash date could keep me away from the address of Dr. H. W. Parker of the British Museum of Natural History on "The Role of Oral Incubation in the West African Mouthbreeder."

It was good of you to give me at least a clue to this teaser by adding, "In the African mouthbreeder, the male keeps the eggs in his mouth for almost 14 days until they hatch and the baby fish swim out."

Until you made that flat statement, I hadn't the faintest inkling as to whether the African mouthbreeder was fish, flesh or good red herring.

You have also sent me a letter asking if I wish you to continue to send me the bulletins of the American Museum of Natural History.

YOU HAVE no ideal how dependent upon museum bulletins I have become for social chit-chat. To you and the bulletins, I owe a formidible reputation for small talk.

I am the only member of my mob who can flatten a dinner partner by observing, "Sir, are you aware that two Australian parasites, imported into the United States in recent years, have successfully waged war against the mealy bug, which once presented a serious threat to the valentia orange crop?"

Man, does that send 'em!

Miss Norton, Honey, don't stop now—I'm an addict!

South Korean Sergeant Tells Of Brutality

Describes Torture By Red Chinese During Captivity

FREEDOM VILLAGE, Korea (AP) A South Korean sergeant who lost all 10 fingers told a shocking story today of torture in Korean Communist prison camps.

M. Sgt. Kim Ka Sung, 25, was among the sick and wounded Allied prisoners exchanged this week at Panmunjom. He was captured by the North Koreans in 1950 while serving with the Republic of Korea Capitol Division.

He said he was taken by three Reds to a lonely village, handed a shovel and ordered to dig his own grave. But he said he clubbed his captors while they were lighting cigarettes, seized a burp gun and killed them.

He was recaptured while wandering on a mountain because...

"I was very tired and fell asleep."

Kim said he was taken to the Communist prison at Hoenyung in December, 1950, and tortured for two weeks.

He said the Communists forced him to drink water in excessive amounts and poured hot pepper powder into his nose and mouth.

He was suspended from the prison ceiling with his hands and legs tied behind him, he said.

The Reds also heat him with wire, rope and other things, he said.

He refused to give his captors his rank and unit.

"I was the only prisoner to be tortured among the 58 South Korean prisoners held in the camp at Hoenyung," he said.

He said that after his arms had been bound for a long time, the circulation was bad and doctors told him his fingers would have to be amputated.

"I doubted that," he said, "but there wasn't much else I could do."

He said the fingers on his right hand were amputated by a saw. He was not given anything to dull the pain.

Three days later, they cut off the fingers of his left hand with a knife. He was given no treatment, he said, and the only cure was putting his butchered hands out of the window so the sun would heal them.

Propaganda Tools

By Victor Riesel

At least three of the 30 GI prisoners of war who walked into Freedom Village on Monday will be shocked to learn that they were made part of an international pro-Soviet propaganda maneuver by a buddy of theirs — -a fourth GI, also released with them by the Red officials at Panmunjom.

RIESEL

Whether the fourth American soldier was duped into this action —the American part of which was directed by the ubiquitous sovieteer Harry Bridges—or consciously furthered this propaganda maneuver will be evident as soon as he speaks publicly.

Whatever the case, the sovietized Chinese officials did release him and the three other GIs in the first exchange after subjecting them to scientific "brainwashing" efforts for over a year in prison camps.

KEY FIGURE of this small group of newly released prisoners is Paul F. Schnur, Jr., of San Francisco. On March 4, 1952, young Schnur got 93 other Allied prisoners of war in Prisoner of War Camp No. 5 to sign a petition to "the American Public" to get a "cease-fire order" in Korea—just at the time the Soviet bloc was screaming for similar action.

The letter read like any one of scores of Communist-line documents. For example, it charged that our aircraft were killing our own prisoners of war and North Korean civilians—thus paralleling pro-Soviet propaganda. Then, in strange language for any GI, it said:

"We appeal to all peace organizations, churches, Quaker organizations, trade unions and all others who want an end to the war to band together now and raise a unified and mighty voice that will be heard."

Among the names on the petition, were Cpl. Richard O. Morrison, PFC Donald LeGay and PFC William R. Hinkle. These are also the names of three of the first group of GIs released Monday.

The letter was mailed to Schnur's parents at the Clay-Jones Apartments in San Francisco. It was then turned over to Harry Bridges, although by that time the West Coast Longshoremen's Union leader had been convicted of perjury, named an official of the Soviet - controlled World Federation of Trade Unions and was awaiting deportation.

Bridges, of course, saw the value to his cause in the petition, which was signed in ink by freedom - hungry men, most with identification numbers attached.

Bridges then printed it in his union newspaper, "The Dispatcher", on May 23, 1952. Harry had his editor give it a two-page spread, actually photographing the long letter so it could be seen exactly as it appeared in the original.

Now, the question is, why did young Schnur's father turn this over to Harry Bridges instead of to the federal authorities or the Quakers or a church? Why was it given to a union which was ousted from CIO for following the Communist line?

For many insiders, the answer is Paul F. Schnur Sr.'s background. The father of the ex-prisoner of war was identified as a Communist in sworn testimony before the California Joint Committee on un-American Activities in 1947.

THE ELDER Schnur is an intimate of Bridges and has been active in those circles for some 20-years—or just about the entire lifetime of his GI son. He was executive secretary of the San Francisco CIO Council before Phil Murray drove the pro-Commies from CIO. And the senior Schnur, in 1944, was secretary of the Communists' labor school in San Francisco.

Thus the petition was exploited.

The danger now is that young Schnur and others may be similarly exploited by still others in the Communist apparatus. In every large city, the American Communists have been alerted to revive their inter - locking "peace" apparatus.

This propaganda machine — quarters at 125 West 72nd Street, New York City.

IN THAT house on 72nd Street are quartered The Labor Conference for Peace, the American Peace Crusade and machinery for direction of peace councils in New York, Chicago, Los Angeles and intermediate cities.

Directing these outfits are Paul Robeson; the veteran Soviet operative (according to congressional testimony), Marcel Scherer; Harry Bridges and Hugh Bryson.

These ghouls await the return of kids who fought and were captured. Now the returning GIs want to live peacefully, not as pawns of the pro-Soviet peace apparat.

Young Schnur has much to explain. Because he has been exploited by his father is no reason to keep silent!

District CCL Members Meet in Upper Sandusky

More than 500 members of Child Conservation Leagues from Marion, Richland, Crawford, Delaware, Knox and Wyandot Counties attended the spring conference of the Central District, Ohio Child Conservation League, in Upper Sandusky Thursday.

Morning and afternoon sessions were held at the St. Paul Lutheran Church with state officers in attendance.

Highlighting the afternoon program was an address by Miss Gertrude Mittermaier, Upper Sandusky public school teacher. The speaker, who chose "Pattern for a Heart" as her topic, dividing the theme into seven parts, You, Work, Fun, Beauty, Love, Courage and God.

Preceding the morning session, Mrs. Harold Koehler of Upper Sandusky, presented a half hour program of organ music and Mrs. Dorcas E. Winter of Upper Sandusky, central district president, had charge of the morning session. The Rev. F. LeRoy Sarver, pastor of the church, gave the invocation, followed by a welcome from Mrs. Donald Hensel, of Marseilles, vice president of the Wyandot County Federation and a past Central District president. Mrs. Donald Putman, of near Ada, a past Central District president, gave the response.

State officers introduced at the morning session were: Mrs. Harold Jacobs of Marion, past state president; Mrs. Cora Extine of Galion, past state president; Mrs. Harold Putman, Ada, past district president; Mrs. W. A. Martin, Columbus, state president at the present time.

A letter stressing the great need for the work being done by the CCL from Mrs. Emma Bain of Marion, first state president, was read by Mrs. Winter. Mrs. Martin asked the support of the individual groups in urging representatives to vote for the continuance of censorship of Ohio motion pictures. Ohio is one of the few states to continue censorship of films shown within its borders. Mrs. Martin also pointed out the desperate need for more elementary school teachers.

Also featured in the afternoon session which followed a noon luncheon at Lutheran and Trinity Evangelical and Reformed Churches, was the Upper Sandusky High School Choir, directed by Ralph Faulk.

The advisory board of the conference for 1953 was composed of Mrs. Charles E. Martin, general chairman; Mrs. Herman Stephan, Upper Sandusky; CCL, Mrs. James Grafmiller, president of MOM Club, Mrs. Fred Cattran, president of Junior Mothers Club; Mrs. Leonard Fadley, president of Mothers Study, Sycamore; Mrs. Charles Copper, Nevada Progressive Mothers Club; Mrs. Richard Emptage, Marseilles, Mrs. David Neumeister, ABC Club; Mrs. Warren Frank, Epsilon Club, and Mrs. Austin Hollanshead, Mifflin Mothers.

The Mansfield CCL clubs will be hostesses at the 1954 spring conference.

Cleveland Soldier Writes Dad He'd Be Freed; He Was

CLEVELAND (AP)—"Keep your chin up and fly right," Pvt. Harry F. Mincey, 21, wrote his father from a Red prison camp in Korea. "Maybe I'll get out of here some day."

That letter was dated Jan. 12. Mincey was right. He was in the latest group of Americans to be freed.

Mincey's parents, Daniel and Ruby Mincey, returned to Chattanooga, Tenn. after he joined the Army in October, 1950. They were getting ready for bed there Thursday night when they heard the radio announcer name their son.

Almost immediately Mrs. Mincey put on the best dress she owned and started a small celebration.

Asked why she didn't wait until today, she replied that would be too late.

"It's the best news I ever had in all my life," she explained.

Mincey, who had been in the Communist prison 23 months and 26 days, doesn't yet know that his family has returned to Chattanooga. They had lived in Cleveland from 1949 to 1951, both Mincey and his dad working as skinners in a slaughter house, the Webb Beef Co. Another son, Daniel Jr., 19, is in the Air force at Mitchel Field, N. Y.

Pvt. Mincey's grandmother, Mrs. Betty Gibson, got the news on television in her trailer home here. She said she was afraid her grandson had died after she heard about Red atrocities.

But when she heard his name: "I started crying and shouting."

Is Taft a Socialist?

The mixup which finds Robert A. Taft, leader of the Republican majority in the U.S. Senate, promising to keep a Republican majority in the House from scuttling the public-housing program is a dandy.

It is typical of a situation beginning to alarm old-timers in Washington — a situation in which President Eisenhower must go against the grain of his own party to defend his political position. But in this instance, the President has distinguished political company.

In public housing, Taft has been going against the Republican grain since 1945 when he teamed up with two Democrats as co-author of the Wagner-Ellender-Taft housing bill. The idea of putting a federal floor under housing conditions originated in the triumvirate's bill, which finally became the National Housing Act of 1949.

Sen. Taft was willing — and able — to take the criticism which followed from both Republicans and Democrats who declared that the use of federal funds to establish or maintain housing standards was socialism or worse. He has not changed his mind, hence his present position of promising to get rid of a House ban on public housing when the bill reaches the Senate.

President Eisenhower's position will have to be cleared up in the meantime. He is nominally in favor of continuing the public-housing policy which permits 35,000 starts a year. But Republicans opposed to public housing are claiming he is in favor of scuttling the program. They point to his appointment of an anti-public-housing administration of the federal Housing and Home Finance Agency as proof of this contention.

It would be the cream of the ideological jest if Dwight Eisenhower were to be wedged into a position of having to split with Robert A. Taft over the issue of whether or not Sen. Taft is socialistic for believing the federal government should support a minimum standard of housing.

Sensation-Mad Visitors Fair Game of Soviet

The writer, former counselor of the Soviet Foreign Service and an official in the Soviet government for 20 years, recently gave information to a special House committee investigating Tax-exempt foundations on Communist infiltration in those organizations. He has the most extensive knowledge of Kremlin policies of any Russian escapee yet to reach the United States.

The group of newspaper editors and radio executives which visited Moscow recently may well have doomed the lives of at least six Russians. Americans who have visited Russia have not improved their understanding of the realities of Communist life.

Whatever is written after their visits is screened carefully by the Soviet secret police, who are looking for those who make confessions to visitors from abroad about the real feelings of the Russian people as to Soviet regime.

During my almost 20 years' service with the Soviet foreign ministry, from 1923 to 1941, I was closely connected with the business of receiving and handling of the foreign editors and newspapermen arriving in the Soviet Union.

My impression was that foreign visitors who came to us were either fully ignorant of the basic facts that make the Communist way of life, or even prejudiced in its favor. Before the war, the West sent to Moscow mostly sympathetic observers, to put it in a mild form.

This situation was naturally exploited by the Communist regime. A person who does not understand much and is rather friendly, might be turned into a dupe and instrument of policies without much difficulty.

The majority of the foreign correspondents I saw in Moscow were dupes and voluntary or involuntary agents of the Communist propaganda. They were used as media for introducing to the West the Communist foe of the West as a peace - loving, more or less normal, state, a regime that cares only about an interesting social experiment, which, certainly, does not fit for the civilized Europeans or Americans, but has some evident merits, etc.

On some occasions, foreign journalists were used as messengers of special projects of the Soviet diplomacy, intended to confuse the West as to the real intentions of the Communist conspirators and aggressors. As an example, I can quote the cases of numerous inter-

I am sorry to be rude, but it also is my firm belief that the Western press contributed too much to the present troubles; wrong and confused ideas, conveyed by the Western press about the real situation in the Soviet Union and about its policies (take, for instance, these persistent, and completely unfounded, rumors about the struggle for power in the Kremlin), influenced in a wrong way the public opinion and governments of the West.

The trips, similar to the recent trip of the American editors to Moscow, were organized better than before. They also were a part of the general plan of exploiting the Western media of information for the benefit of the Communist propaganda and policies.

As a matter of fact, every foreign visitor got a special schedule —what, when and how to show him, during his stay in Moscow, to what kind of people he should be introduced, what they must say to him, and what kind of people must not contact the foreigner. This was the business of the press department of the ministry where I was working, in connection with the ill-famed KRU, the Communist counter-intelligence.

Everything foreign visitors write about Soviet affairs is studied by several Soviet agencies, including the secret police. The agents from the office of Lavrenti P. Beria aren't interested about the opinions of the foreign visitors. They are interested about the opinions of the Russians whom the foreigner has met during his visit to Moscow.

If these Russian opinions do not parrot Pravda, the Beria agents start an investigation, and usually find from the servant maids, taxi drivers and other occasional sources as to the illegal foreign information about the real stand of the Russian people; sometimes it does not take much labor, for writings of the foreign correspondents aren't discreet enough, the circumstances and even names are given sometimes openly. That is the end of the life story of those good-intentioned Russians who talk too much with foreigners and talk about things they should have concealed.

I knew a lot of victims of the foreign visitors. I lost a good friend, an official of the foreign office, who confessed once to a foreign diplomat, whom he believed to be able to trust, his real feelings.

Secretary Weeks in Hot Seaway Water

By Martin S. Hayden

Already in hot political water over handling of the case of Bureau of Standards director Allen V. Astin, Secretary of Commerce Weeks is now defending himself from Midwestern senators suspicious that he is undercutting the St. Lawrence Seaway project.

The new furor has been climaxed by a hitherto unrevealed exchange of letters with Sen. Wiley in which the chairman of the powerful Foreign Relations Committee criticized Weeks for lack of knowledge as to what government

His qualifications were: That the project be self-liquidating, that the U. S. dollar commitment to it be limited, and, thirdly, that the financing plan be approved by the Budget Bureau.

The usually mild-mannered Wiley erupted into a stinging answer mailed to the secretary on April 7.

He noted first that Weeks' letter was either calling the Corps of Army Enginers "not reliable" or else the secretary is inexplicably of now he is positively not committed one way or the other on the St. Lawrence Seaway and that Sen. Wiley is incorrect in his feeling that he is obstructing it.

"The secretary's letter to Sen. Wiley was intended only as a progress report on high-level investigations the secretary has been conducting for the past two weeks and is continuing this week. At no time was Mr. Weeks worried about any estimates which have already been given the Senate committee. He simply wanted to be assured that

The Great Sturgeon Mystery

("An alleged Washington fixer under questioning by a Senate committee regarding evidence that $60,000 had been delivered to him in a brief case by his lawyers says the brief case carried no money, merely a sturgeon."
—News item.)

The brief case was attorney-borne;
To this I gladly swore;
Guess what there was inside the case? . . .
A sturgeon, nothing more!

II

A deep whodunit mood was there.
And mystery's my dish,
Beneath the cloak and dagger stuff
There merely was fresh FISH!

III

That sturgeon I remember well—
What drama high and wide! . . .
Soft footsteps! . . . Lawyers! . . . Brief-case fat!
(But only fish inside!)

IV

Phone calls! . . . A rendezvous! . . . Suspense!
Why probe these things long past?
(I often call my lawyers when I want some seafood fast.)

V

A railroad station! . . . Puffing trains! . . .
Commuters! . . . Traffic jams! . . .
A groan! . . . A blow! . . Chagrin quite deep! . . .
I HAD EXPECTED CLAMS!

Following similar action in a few other states, New York has a new law under which an auto driver can be arrested for driving slowly . . . It had always been our impression that you could offer a jackpot for the discovery of anybody anywhere driving slowly these days, and not find a winner. . . . We thought the police acted on two assumptions: (1)—If a man is driving under 30 per hour he's asleep; (2)—If he is driving under 20; he's dead . . . Imagine the new picture on the superhighways:

"Pull over to the curb."

"But, officer, I wasn't speeding."

"That's just the trouble, and an example has got to be made of you."

"Look, officer, I was . . ."

"No back talk. You're one of those cautious drivers who think they can drive around with everything under control. How do you get that way?"

Please, officer, I was in no particular hurry and I'm sorry."

"You can't get away with any safe and sane driving around here, buster."

"But I'm not in any sweat to go anywhere. I just want to enjoy the scenery and fresh air."

"A confession like that can make it extra tough for you. I'll have to give you a ticket."

"Officer, can't you give me another chance?"

The trustees of Marion Township have taken a step in the right direction by appointing a zoning commission for the non-agricultural areas of the township. Zoning is becoming steadily more important in virtually all rural localities which adjoin or are anywhere near growing municipalities such as Marion.

As the residential portions of the municipalities are occupied, necessity for homes beyond the corporation lines increases and this makes it essential to provide those suburban homes with assurance of suitable environment. Obviously that assurance can come only through adequate zoning rules.

Nothing Indispensable

The Washington incident in which the chief of the Office of Education resigned rather than accept a cut in appropriations could be as good an excuse as any to air what too often has been a closed subject.

Naturally, the chief of the Office of Education thinks his work is important. He wouldn't be fit to hold the job if he didn't think so. For the most part, all the work done with public money is considered important.

This gives rise to the great illusion of the spending era—that every public project is indispensable and must therefore keep getting bigger, better and costlier. That's how the public spenders got where they are today—astride the taxpayers.

For taxpayers, there are no indispensable projects. Everything must wait until taxes have been paid. There are times, usually around March 15, when taxpayers feel like resigning too. But they can't resign. They can slow up, pull in their sails, eat more macaroni, do without things they consider indispensable — but they can't resign.

It is to be hoped no one in the new administration will feel ticklish or skittish about accepting the resignation of any officeholder who would rather be unemployed than try to get along on a curtailed budget.

Even education is not sacred when the time comes to cut the rate of public spending.

America the Bedraggled

Edna Ferber the novelist observed on her return from Europe that New York City was the most "disgustingly filthy city in the world—a scab on the face of our country."

No one argued with her. America the beautiful has become America the bedraggled wherever the desecrators of their heritage were given a free rein.

Their handiwork is especially noxious in springtime when America would rather be clean and attractive than what they have made it—a land of tattered advertising signs, tin-can dumps, auto graveyards, trash; clutter, neglected shacks and weed-infested wastelands.

A mute and stirring testimonial to the depth of the contempt which too many Americans have for their own country are thousands of No-Dumping signs on a growing rubbish heap alongside country roads.

Miss Ferber was startled by the seediness of New York, compared with what it could look like if its face were washed. Wait until she sees what the vandals and spoilers have done to the countryside, itself, where clutter is not only neglect but deliberate desecration.

is doing, lack of coordination with other departments and implied opposition to the waterway.

On the defensive today, Weeks said through his official spokesman that he was not opposing the waterway and that Wiley was in error in feeling he was obstructing it. It was explained that the secretary simply wants to "get complete information" on the project which has been the subject of governmental investigations for half a century.

The official duel began April 3 when Weeks answered Wiley's request that his department, which has supported the waterway for two decades, reaffirm its position at current hearings on Wiley's bill to have the U. S. join Canada in channeling the rapids of the St. Lawrence River.

His answer, paraphrased by one senator as "A begrudging agreement to let Congress build the waterway if it wanted to," raised senatorial blood pressure by reaching that reluctant conclusion after first restating the chief opposition arguments against the bill.

Weeks' letter said, first, that his department was "handicapped" in evaluating the project because it has been able to get no "reliable" estimates of costs. It added that the secretary had heard equally strong arguments from proponents and opponents of the measure. It concluded by saying that, since Canada is planning to build the controversial project anyhow, Weeks' department would not object to American participation providing several qualifications were met.

unaware that the engineers had laid before the Foreign Relations Committee a firm estimate of $88 million for the U. S. share of the rapids works.

The senator went on to point out that, by reading his bill, the secretary could discover that it calls specifically for self-liquidation of the project through government issues of bonds and stock which would be retired from ship tolls. He added with continued acid that the bill on Weeks's desk also carries a definite limitation of $105 million on the U. S. contribution, $100 million of it to be raised from the bond sale and $5 million from stock.

Wiley concluded with an expression of "complete surprise" at seeming lack of departmental coordination under which one branch of government (the Army Engineers) gives favorable estimates of seaway costs while another (Commerce) claims lack of knowledge that such figures are in existence.

Albert Leman, Commerce Department information director, answered a reporter's query as to the letters.

"The secretary," Leman said, "has directed me to say that, as they represent all the costs for a completed project.

"The secretary also says that, while, in the old days when he was a senator he had reservations as to the St. Lawrence project, he has, since coming to Washington as secretary of Commerce, regarded with an open mind the administration's action in reopening the St. Lawrence matter. In the end, he will absolutely support the administration's position, whatever it may be."

Disturbing Wiley is the fact that although Secretary of Interior Douglas McKay is already flatly on record for the waterway and although the Defense and State Departments have indicated their favorable witnesses are prepared to appear before the Senate committee, the all-important Commerce endorsement is still the subject of "study."

Additionally Wiley and other senators backing the project are fearful as to what effect opposition from one of his top Cabinet advisers may have on President Eisenhower who, it is conceded, is currently in the position to push the Wiley bill in Congress or let the American sharing of the project die, perhaps permanently.

By TRUMAN TWILL

Dear Nephew: I can't complain and hope you are the same. We finally had a nice day here at the Corners and it's as if the dove had come back with an olive branch. Winter is receding.

Last night I dropped in to see Jed Martin, who has a broken leg and is house-bound until he learns to walk on crutches. While Mrs. Martin was buzzing around to tidy up the bedroom, I was looking at the April issue of Fortune. I don't get to see that magazine often. But now I'll have to go see Jed when the May issue comes out because it is going to tell what makes an executive.

I've always wondered and have given this mystery hours of my valueless time. If Fortune and I have reached the same conclusion, I'll feel pretty smart.

It seems to me that executives get paid and pampered for making decisions. If they make most decisions right and are lucky enough to make a number of important ones, they become big executives. Otherwise, they become minor ones — bush leaguers.

It sounds simple. But it isn't simple at all. Making decisions is the hardest thing there is to do —and making decisions that will hold water is harder yet. Looking back at my own misspent life, I can see that most of the decisions I made were wrong. Moreover, I avoided making some I should have made. I waited for something to turn up, instead of digging for it.

But what I am waiting to see in Fortune's treatment of the this vital subject is how you learn to spot an executive. I have my eye on a couple of youngsters in this end of the township I'd like to push in the direction they'd like to go.

This would be, in my judgment, an important contribution to the American branch of modern civilization, which is chronically short of executives. We have plenty of people itching to make decisions; there never is any shortage of willing candidates. But we are short of people who can be depended on to make decisions correctly.

Heaven forgive me for saying so, but I have a hunch this has become a chronic weakness in Washington, no matter who happens to be running the government. There just aren't enough people wo can average better than .500 on the big ones.

Some of the critics who carped at the last crew of decision-makers in Washington are learning that public decisions are a lot more complicated than the private ones they'd been making before they went to Washington. That's a special test of executive ability—public affairs.

I want to know more about it. I can spot a good executive when I see one and vice versa. I want to know what to look for.

Your dear old auntie is about as well as could be expected after putting out 200 strawberry plants. I helped. Her back is killing her. She sends her regards, along with mine.

Today Is Arbor Day

GIVEN ADDED IMPORTANCE BY SESQUI-CENTENNIAL

Joyce Kilmer's poem "Trees" is probably being recited and sung more today than throughout the rest of the year. Today is Arbor Day. At least 567 schools are observing the occasion by planting a tree furnished by Ohio's strip mine operators.

Arbor Day was an important affair in the schools of yesteryear. We may chuckle at remembrance of the youthful renditions of "Woodman, Spare That Tree," which generally accompanied the planting, but somehow we also carried with us through the years the feeling that a tree was a pretty necessary thing.

The observance of Arbor Day was revived in the schools of eastern Ohio a few years ago by the strip mine operators' Ohio Reclamation Association with the mailing of trees for Arbor Day planting. The Ohio Forestry Association came in on the idea three years ago making it state-wide. A school wishing to participate sends in a card with their request and the trees are packaged and mailed to them by the Ohio Reclamation Association.

Ohio's Sesqui-Centennial and the emphasis being placed on the need to reforest large areas of the state have given this year's Arbor Day added importance. Five hundred and sixty-seven cards were received which means that at least that many of Ohio's schools are observing the occasion today.

"The total of the trees we send to the schools for Arbor Day planting wouldn't plant an acre," says Larry Cook, director of the Ohio Reclamation Association. "Since we are planting over two million trees on about 2500 acres of strip mine land this year they will hardly be missed. But if we can impress on the school children the importance of trees to Ohio's future welfare, and the fact that there are over two million acres of waste land in the state which need to be reforested, it will be worth the effort it takes to package and mail them."

Silence Damaging

By George Sokolsky

It used to be that when an author wrote a book, expressing ideas, he fought for what he believed. Often he traveled about as a lecturer. For instance, Henry George once wrote a book, "Progress and Poverty," advocating the novel idea, single tax. George devoted his life to the idea, starting a public movement which continues to have a following to this day.

SOKOLSKY

Currently, some authors take refuge under the Fifth Amendment as though it would incriminate them to advocate what they wrote because they believed it to be true.

Lawrence K. Rosinger is the author of six books on Far Eastern affairs which are being used in the State Department's Information Service.

ROSINGER, on the witness stand before a congressional committee, took refugee under the Fifth Amendment every time he was asked any question in any way relating him to the Communist party. He said to reply otherwise would incriminate him.

He declined to answer whether he knew Alger Hiss or Frederick Vanderbilt Field on the grounds of self-incrimination. All three persons were associated with the Institute of Pacific Relations, as earlier testimony before the McCarran committee brought out.

Sen. Stuart Symington, a Democrat and a new member of the Senate, tried to help Rosinger by this query:

"Now, we have just had a witness who was a member of the Communist party, and he did not decline to answer anything. If you are a good American, with the premise that it is an international conspiracy against the United States, why do you not answer these questions?

"What you have done in the past is not as important as the future and the present. Why are you afraid of answering that you are a Communist or have been a Communist? Or why do you not state your position frankly ,like Professor Budenz did? That is what I cannot understand in these hearings."

ROSINGER remained unmoved. Sen. McClellan made the point:

"But certainly I do not have time to waste on reading the literature of people who take the position that they cannot answer what their philosophy of government is without fear that it will incriminate them."

Then followed this colloquy:

I asked you, I believe, if you believe in the overthrow of this government by force and violence?

Rosinger: No, sir, I do not.

Sen. McClellan: Have you ever advocated it?

Rosinger: I respectfully decline to answer, relying on the constitutional privilege under the Fifth Amendment.

Sen. McClellan: You refuse to answer that. Have you ever attended meetings, Communist meetings, where it was advocated?

Rosinger: I decline to answer, relying on the Constitutional privilege and the Fifth Amendment.

Sen. McClellan: Are you now a member of the Communist Party?

Rosinger: I decline to answer, relying on the Constitutional privilege under the Fifth Amendment.

Sen. McClellan: Will you tell the committee when you withdrew membership, or when membership was withdrawn from you, in the Communist party?

Rosinger: I decline to answer, relying on the Constitutional privilege under the Fifth Amendment.

Sen. McClellan: Do you believe that the system of government and idology of Communism in Russia is superior to the American system of government and philosophy?

Rosinger: I decline to answer, relying on the Constitutional privilege under the Fifth Amendment.

Sen. McClellan: Is it because you are ashamed to answer that you refuse to answer?

Rosinger: I decline to answer, relying on the Constitutional privilege under the Fifth Amendment.

SUCH REPLIES to such questions involve a philosophy of life. An author of books on China and the Far East must have a definite philosophy or he could not write at all.

One is either for or against the Nationalists, for or against Chiang Kai-shek or Mao Tze-tung, for the United States or for Russia in the Korean War.

The historian a century from now could perhaps be objective; the present-day author is too close to the scene and time for objectivity to be possible.

An honest man stands for his position. If he believes that he is right, he ought to be prepared to risk all for his principles of life.

How can a man dare to influence others who lacks the courage to defend his beliefs?

Phone Installers Delay Strike After Pay Hike Offer

NEW YORK (AP)—A pay raise offer staved off a threatened 43-state strike Thursday midnight of telephone equipment installers, and set the scene for new negotiations today.

The Western Electric Co. Thursday offered a pay boost of five to seven cents an hour, and District 10 of the CIO Communication Workers of America immediately called off its midnight strike deadline.

The union division includes 17,000 Western Electric employes who install telephone equipment for the Bell System exchanges in 43 states.

Although their work contract expired at midnight, Ernest Weaver, director of District 10, said they would stay on the job pending further talks in light of what he called the company's "first offer."

The union made a counter-proposal and a spokesman said the company agreed to study it. Both sides agreed to further talks today.

Negotiations also were set today

Favor Extending Doctor Draft For One-Year Period

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Ohio State Medical Assocation is on record as favoring a one-year extension of the doctor's draft law which is due to expire June 30.

A resolution favoring extension of the law governing the drafting of doctors into the armed services was adopted by the medical association Thursday as its annual convention ended here.

The resolution urged, however, that doctors who have had active duty in the armed service since Sept. 1, 1939, not be liable for registration or induction. It also proposed there be no changes in the draft age limits—registration for men up to 50 years of age and obligation to serve up to 51.

The closing session of the convention also brought the selection of Dr. Merrill D. Prugh of Dayton as president-elect of the association. He will take office next year.

Dr. Paul A. Davis of Akron was installed as president to serve during the current year.

Dr. Prugh, a native of Preble County, attended Miami University.

Resume Fight Over Charter In Hardin Co.

Hissong Asks Ruling On Right To Close Roundhead School

COLUMBUS, O. (AP)—Clyde Hissong, state education director, again today asked the Ohio Supreme Court to say whether he could revoke a high school charter without a public hearing.

Dr. Hissong appealed from Hardin County court decisions reversing his order revoking the 1952-1953 charter of Roundhead local district high school in Hardin County.

The school district contended the Ohio administrative procedures act, prescribing methods to be followed by state officials, requires public hearings before a revocation.

Dr. Hissong said hearings were conducted but not according to the administrative procedures act. He said the act doesn't apply in the Roundhead case.

He said issues in the case were the same as in the case of Mill Creek local school district of Williams County, already pending in the Supreme Court.

Under state law, high schools must be chartered by the state education department in order to operate. A charter revocation means the school must be closed and its pupils sent elsewhere at the expense of their local school board. Charters may be revoked for schools which fail to meet standards set up by the department.

Kiwanis Sees Movie on Ohio

Marion Kiwanians saw the movie "Freedom's Proving Ground," developed by the Standard Oil Co. of Ohio in connection with the Ohio Sesquicentennial observance, at their weekly luncheon meeting Thursday at Hotel Harding.

Showing the movie were Carroll Bachelder, assistant division manager of the Standard Oil Co., and Arthur Dennis O'Keeffe, a station supervisor.

During the meeting, the members were told it was 20 years ago the Junior Kiwanian project was started. Junior Kiwanians are high school boys who are selected from Harding High School and St. Mary High School, two from each school, to attend Kiwanis meetings for a period of six weeks.

When the project was started, only one from each school attended. The first Junior Kiwanians were Charles Sickel from St. Mary and John Beecher from Harding.

Introduced into the club as new members were James Weir, manager of the Montgomery Ward & Co. store, and M. A. Lambroff, a real estate dealer.

Guests were John Abel of Kansas City, Mo., grand secretary of the Eagles Lodge, and M. W. Greene of Milwaukee, Wis.

PUCO To Rule On Installation Of Gas Units

Public Hearing Ends; Ohio Fuel Sounds Optimistic Note

COLUMBUS, O. (AP)—The state utilities commission will review testimony and statistics on supply and demand of the natural gas supply and then will issue regulations on the installation of new gas space heating units.

Public hearings ended Thursday after officials from Portsmouth Toledo, Delaware and Columbus gas companies had their say.

W. T. Shinholser, vice president and chief engineer for Ohio Fuel Gas Co., sounded a note of optimisim with his opinion that the ban on new installations probably would not be necessary after next winter. However, he anticipates a shortage of nearly 66 billion cubic feet of natural gas on a peak day next winter.

Curtailment on new units has been in effect because of the nationwide shortage of natural gas, transmission facilities in relation to increased demand. Some gas officials said the shortage has eased and more units should be permitted.

Chauncey Baughman of the Portsmouth Gas Co. told the commission it has contracted for 16 million cubic feet of natural gas—enough, he said, to clear up the company's entire backlog. Baughman asked the commission to approve contracts for another million cubic feet to serve 800 other new customers.

But Morris Hollenbaugh of the Delaware Gas Co., said his company backed the plea for a freeze on additional space heating installations for the heating year 1953-54.

Hollenbaugh told the commission in the event it decided a freeze was not necessary next winter Delaware gas would like permission to serve 218 additional customers.

NEW LARUE METHODIST CHURCH Sunday School Annex, built at the back of the church.

KINDERGARTEN AND PRIMARY ROOMS of the Annex, divided by folding curtain.

District Superintendent, Bishop of Ohio to Take Part in Ceremony

Special services will be conducted at the LaRue Methodist Church on Sunday to mark the completion of a building project. The new building, a Sunday School annex, will be dedicated in the afternoon services. In the morning, Sunday School will be held at the regular time, 9:30 with classes for all ages. All adult classes will join together in a class which will be taught by the Rev. William A. Boehnker, who served as pastor of the church from 1938-1941. He is now pastor of the Nast-Emanuel Methodist Church in Cincinnati.

At the morning worship service which will begin at 10:30 Dr. Harold F. Kellogg, superintendent of the Lima District Methodist Church, will deliver the sermon.

Afternoon services will start at 2:30 during which Bishop Hazen G. Werner, resident bishop of the Ohio Area, Methodist Church, will preach and will conduct a special service of Mortgage burning and preside for the dedication ritual. Riley Hoagland, treasurer of the building committee, will present the mortgage for burning.

Other ministers participating in the service will be the Rev. William Martel George of West Park Methodist Church in Columbus, the Rev. Mr. Boehnker, and Dr. George Herd of the Lancaster Methodist Church, who was pastor of the LaRue Church from 1935 to 1938. Dr. Kellogg and the Rev. Leland Wiley who is the present pastor of the church, will also share in the servunder the direction of Mrs. William Stanbro will sing at both services. In the morning, the number will be "Blessed Is God," Roger Wilson; and "My God and I," I. D. Sergei; and in the afternoon, "King All Glorious," George Vail and "Bless This House," May Blahe. Miss Lena Dale Mulvaine is the accompanying organist and Miss Martha Bess Hoagland, the pianist.

The day's activities will terminate a project which has long been a dream of the people of the church and community. Additional space in the form of an educational unit has been needed badly for several years.

The building project itself began March 8, 1950, but the financial phase of the program began several years previously. The completion of the building was marked formally with consecration services on Nov. 25, 1951.

The Sunday School Annex as it is formally called, is a building of brick structure approximately 35x70 feet. It is a two-story building and is attached to the main church building, forming the top of a letter "T."

On the pastor's study, a large and social purposes and special programs of the church, a stage, a kitchen and choir and rest rooms. The second story is divided into separate class rooms for the youth of the church. Classes range from the Nursery for two and three-year-olds, Kindergarten for four and five-year-olds, and on through the high school age. There are eight class rooms in all, two rest rooms, and storage rooms.

A new heating system was installed as a part of the project, for both the old and new portions of the church. The new structure is heated with radiant heating.

The approximate cash cost of the building will be $62,000. In addition much work has been given by the members of the congregation and people of the community. Howard Bailey served as chairman of the building committee and other members of the committee were Riley Hoagland, Orville Boblenz, financial secretary, W. E. Thew, J. S. Mulvaine, Leslie Adams, Dr. R. A. Dietrich, Delbert Greenwood, W. E. Selanders, and M. C. Clements.

The public is invited to the services throughout the day and to inspect the building.

Begin Work On Natatorium At Wesleyan

Special to The Star

DELAWARE—The D. E. Gardner Co. of Columbus, has started excavation for construction of the new Pfeiffer Natatorium on the Ohio Wesleyan campus.

D. J. Hornberger, vice president and treasurer of the University, said the total cost of the one-story structure will be approximately $219,000. He added that the university is hoping to have the building ready for use this fall.

Besides housing the swimming pool, spectator stands, and necessary control and storage space, the Pfeiffer Natatorium will include one large classroom, offices for the departments of publicity and journalism, and offices for all the student publications. The Transcript, Le Bijou, the OWL, and The Sulphur Spray.

The pool will be the standard 75 by 42 feet with six lanes, two low and one high diving board. Concrete stands with wooden seats will accomodate approximately 350 persons.

Many of the young legislators have prepared bills for introduction.

This afternoon's session was for organization. The youngsters will elect a governor, a lieutenant governor, speaker of the House, a clerk and a chaplain. Successful candidates were to be announced at the governor's banquet tonight at the Student Union Bldg., on the

Mrs. Falor Gives Message at Union EUB Revival

In the absence from the Calvary EUB Church pulpit of Bishop Fred L. Dennis of Dayton, the union Evangelical United Brethren revival service speaker Thursday night was Mrs. H. V. Falor, wife of the Oakland Church pastor. She will continue as the preacher for the special meetings through Sunday night. Bishop Dennis, who became ill Thursday, is in City Hospital for medical care. He opened the union evangelistic effort here last Sunday night.

The host pastor, the Rev. R. W. Faulkner, was in charge of the offering. Prayer was by the Rev. R. L. Sutherland of Greenwood Church. Choir music, congregational singing, and children's meetings are in charge of the Rev. A. E. Clark of the rural Salem Church. Mrs. J. W. Baker is the organist and Mrs. A. E. Clark, pianist.

In her message Mrs. Falor said in part, "Unless you repent of your sins you shall perish. 'Perish' is an awful word in any language. No one knows the contents of this word as Jesus spoke it. If we knew what it was for souls to perish we would not as church people be so dry-eyed. To perish means to be lost in outer darkness for all eternity. God commands all men everywhere to repent. There is no slight healing of sin."

MT. GILEAD — George Arthur Barr, 85, of near Bloomfield in Morrow County died Thursday morning at the Castle Nursing Home at Millersburg. He had been at the rest home six months.

"precarious."

He talked to Pvt. Harry F. Mincey of Cleveland and Cpl. Joseph Linsay Jewell of Norwood and wrote:

"Both men said life in Red prison camps was a precarious diet of rice, beans, boiled peanuts, bread made of rice flour and occasional pieces of pork.

"They both lived in grass and bamboo huts, 10 feet square.

"They said they were up at 5 a. m. and in bed at 9 p. m.

"Both were on hard work details all day.

"Mincey and Jewell both saw many GI's die of starvation and exposure in winter months.

"Jewell said 256 prisoners perished in Death Valley. He was one of 40 survivors.

"Jewell said he stayed in Death Valley from December to April after the capture and his foot was amputated without anesthetic.

"'All the medics had was iodine,' he said.

"He said he tore the lining from his Army jacket to use as bandage and traded other clothing with Communist civilians for food.

"He said he was forced to eat dog meat on several occasions."

Corp. Jewell, said Beaufait, asked the News to notify his family and tell them not to worry. The corporal told the writer part of his left foot was amputated by the Chinese with a hacksaw after it was frozen during a march through Death Valley in December, 1950.

Pvt. Mincey, Beaufait reported, was turned over to the Americans wearing a gauze mask, suffering from a respiratory disease.

Beaufait, who followed Mincey to Tokyo, quoted the soldier as saying, "I am the happiest man in the world. I just want to get home and have a real good time."

When he was captured, the private said, "a tremendous mob of Chinese came at us and there was little we could do.

New Fungicides Aid Fight on Apple Rust

GENEVA, N.Y. (UP)—New types of fungicides now available promise to be a formidable ally to fruitgrowers trying to stamp out apple rust diseases.

All three major rust diseases—cedar-apple rust, hawthorn rust, and quince rust — can be easily controlled by fungicides of the ferbam group, such as fermate. These fungicides can be combined with standard sprays for apple scab, the major fungus disease of apples in New York state.

That information was contained in a bulletin issued recently by the N.Y. Experiment Station.

Per capita consumption of sugar in Hawaii is 146 pounds per person per year compared with 130 pounds in Australia, 106 pounds in Canada and 94 pounds per person in the United States.

Morrow Co. Couple Await Word of Son

Special to The Star

MT. GILEAD — Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd S. Vaughn of four miles southeast of Mt. Gilead are anxiously awaiting word of their son, Pfc. Lloyd Vaughn Jr., a prisoner of War in Korea since July 11, 1950.

Mrs. Vaughn said Wednesday that the family eagerly awaits word of their son on the late news broadcast each night listing the names of prisoners released that day.

The family has received a total of nine letters from their son since he was first permitted to write early in 1952. Three of the letters were received in December and January and they all stated he was "well and figured on coming home."

Pfc. Vaughn enlisted on Aug. 12, 1948 and completed his basic training at Camp Breckinridge, Ky. He left for occupational duty with the 21st Infantry Regiment and was with one of the first groups to go into action in Korea.

Mrs. Vaughn said the family has never given up hope for their son's safe return.

oner of war for 23 months, was among those released.

"It's Christmas all over again," she cried. "I know he must be all right because only today I got two delayed Christmas cards and a letter from him."

Thomas B. Franklin, a railway watchman of Petersburg, Va., was informed his son, Pfc. James M. Franklin, 20, had been returned.

"Boy, will we be glad to see him," Franklin said. He said his boy "was so anxious to get into the Army" he left high school a year and a half early. He was captured on April 23, 1951.

At a farm home near Chattanooga, Tenn., Mr. and Mrs. Daniel L. Mincey, were getting ready to go to bed. Mrs. Mincey decided to stay up "for just one more broadcast." And on that broadcast she heard a radio announcer say her son, Pvt. Harry F. Mincey, had been set free.

Mrs. Mincey, who had been crying intermittently for 24 hours while anxiously waiting word, immediately donned her finest dress and said she "planned to celebrate tonight."

Asked if she didn't mean the next day, she replied:

"No—tonight. Tomorrow's too late. It's the best news I ever had in all my life."

Cpl. Ernest Eloy Contrearas, 22, another returnee, can look forward to his favorite dish—tortillas and beans.

"I'm so happy, so glad," his teary-eyed mother, Mrs. Tony Contrearas, 63, murmured at her Denver, Colo., home. "I thank God. Maybe in ten or five days, I'll have my boy back again. I'll cook him tortillas and beans."

Another mother, Mrs. Delpha Clements, commented at Indianapolis:

"I feel as though I want to tie him to my apron strings for the rest of my life."

Her son is Pfc. Paul E. Clements, 2[illegible].

At Rossville, Ill., the stepmother of Sgt. Phillip D. McMahon, 25, and her family had heard nothing of the sergeant since he was reported missing in action last December.

Informed by The Associated Press last night that he had been repatriated, she asked:

"Are you sure you aren't kidding me?"

Then after receiving assurances and catching her breath, she said:

"We didn't even know if he was alive. But we had hopes he was."

The mother of Pfc. Robert H. Hickox, 23, who had been a captive almost 27 months, sobbed:

"Everybody has been praying for him. All I could do is put him in the Lord's hands and it seems as if the Lord has protected him."

Mrs. Durward C. Hickox and her husband, who live in Syracuse, N. Y., were visiting friends when they received the news.

Police Trap Bandits Inside St. Louis Bank

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Police reported two or three men attempting to rob the Southwest Bank today here had been trapped inside the bank and that one policeman was reported to have been wounded.

Police reinforcements were rushed to the scene in West St. Louis. The bandits were reported armed with machine guns.

"We have just sent some tear gas down there," an officer at district police headquarters said.

The officers at headquarters said one man, apparently the driver of the car used by the men, escaped in the automobile.

The officer said a police sergeant was shot in the head.

Nixon Lists Ways Russia Can Show Intent for Peace

NEW YORK (AP)—Vice President Nixon has listed these steps by which he says Russia could show it really wants world peace.

1. Agreeing to a Korean settlement.
2. Withdrawal of Russian support for Indochinese Communists.
3. Settlement of the Austrian treaty question.
4. Cooperation in a real disarmament program.
5. Release of thousands of prisoners still held from World War I and political prisoners jailed since that time.
6. Free elections and self determination for the liberated countries of Central and Western Europe.

The points, set forth by Nixon last night in a speech to the annual dinner of the Bureau of Advertising of the American Newspaper Publishers Association, were much the same as those listed previously by President Eisenhower.

Nixon, in his first major address since assuming office, said Communist leaders must bear the sole responsibility for "blockading the road that leads to peace."

"The responsibility, if they fail to act, rests squarely upon them and no one else," he told some 1,800 persons at the dinner.

GIs Spelled Out SOS With Bodies Of Dead Comrades

FREEDOM VILLAGE (AP)—One thousand American soldiers cut off from their lines. . .700 of them wounded. . .all so desperate that they spelled out a giant SOS with corpses of their fallen comrades. . . .eventual death for 900.

That new story of horror in the early days of the Korean war—in November, 1950 was related today by Pvt. William J. Prabucki, 21, Pittsburgh. He just had been returned by the Communists after 29 months in their prison camps.

The 1,000 were stranded after a "horrible" battle in which there were nearly 75 per cent casualties.

"We were desperate . . . so desperate that we even spelled out messages with bodies in the snow," Prabucki said in a brief interview which didn't allow time for many details.

Prabucki said one plane sighted the SOS in corpses and he understood helicopters were being sent to pick up the wounded.

But help never came.

"Instead, a message came through to take off in groups of five. Most of us didn't want to leave the wounded so somebody—I don't know who—arranged to surrender."

Under the surrender agreement, "the wounded were supposed to be released. But they were not.

"I'd say few—no more than a dozen out of the 700—lived."

The Communists left some of the 700 wounded behind, but lined up more than 1,000 men and ordered them to march north.

For 28 days they struggled over North Korean roads, arriving about Christmas at a prison camp the captives labeled Death Valley, Prabucki said.

In the next few weeks "over 200 men died of starvation."

Prabucki, an artilleryman in the Second Infantry Division when captured, was exchanged by the Reds because of a bone ailment.

CONVICTED AT TIFFIN

TIFFIN, O. (AP)—A three-judge Common Pleas Court Thursday convicted Jesse J. Rycroft, 37, of trying to rape a 16-year-old baby sitter for his four children, but acquitted him of a charge of raping her. Sentencing was delayed until Rycroft undergoes mental tests.

Film on Korea To Be Shown

The Marion Youth for Christ Rally will be held at the Emmanuel Baptist Church Saturday at 7:45 p.m. in the Educational Building. Ellis E. Tolly, film representative of the Great Lakes Region of the Youth for Christ, will be in charge of the hour of message.

Tolly will show the film, "The Flame." This is a message from the front line combat areas in the heart of Korea, filmed in natural color by the United Nations war correspondent, Dr. Bob Pierce.

Communist prisoner of war camps, frontline combat, ruin, devastation, homeless orphans and refugees, and some of the great heroes of the current Korean conflict are included, in its scenes. Much of the drama, tragedy, horor and pathos that is in Korea today is recorded in this film. The motive of this picture is "to burden America with the physical and spiritual need of foreign missions."

Dr. Pierce is president of World Vision, Inc. and a missionary statesman" to the Orient.

The Rev. Wallace Ellis of West Jackson will be in charge of the congregational singing. Director of Marion Youth for Christ is Dr. C.E. Hershey, pastor of Emmanuel Church.

session today. It was their first action during the second day of a three-day meeting here.

The council urged ratification at an early date of the European Defense Community pact, under which France, Italy, Belgium, Luxembourg and The Netherlands—all NATO members—would pool their fighting forces with West Germany's.

The resolution was presented by U. S. Secretary of State Dulles, who told a news conference Thursday night Congress would be looking for some other way of defending Europe if there was not substantial progress toward ratification of the treaty by June 30.

As reported to the press, the resolution declared the whole community of 14 North Atlantic nations regards with "extreme importance" the rapid entry into force of the treaty.

Later today the NATO ministers were to take up the major work of their current session, their military budgets. They must decide how much they can spend on defense without weakening their national economies.

The late Franklin D. Roosevelt hurled more opening day pitches than any U. S. president. Roosevelt tossed out the first ball eight times.

their closets and gather up old clothing and have it ready Saturday.

The clothing will be taken to the home of Howard, where it will be boxed and shipped by members. Club members will crate the clothing after the canvass is completed and hope to have the project completed sometime Saturday night.

Crates of clothing from all over the United States will be sent to Rotary International in New York where they will be forwarded to Germany and Holland.

The original request for the drive was received recently by Carroll Bachelder, president of the local Rotary Club, and the club has been completing plans for the drive for about three weeks.

The program was set up by Rotary International to create a better understanding of people all over the world and Howard said the local Rotary Club feels it can contribute a share of that better understanding by the drive in Marion.

Howard said today he expected approximately 100 homes would be visited.

Other members of the drive committee in addition to Howard are George Howser, William Charle, Marion McDaniel, Stewart Norris and Jay Maish Jr.

could not walk because of his wounds...

"They rushed me along, pulled rifles on me; I crawled uphill afraid they would shoot."

Later he was taken to a hospital.

Pfc. Harold L. Witt, 21, of Bartlesville, Okla., also was in a long march after his capture Dec. 1, 1950. He said:

"I didn't see very many die but there was one place we called Death Valley. I saw them carrying two cartloads of dead GIs. Each contained about 10 guys."

Cpl. Joe Lindsay Jewell, 23, of Norwood, Ohio, told a story of hunger and death in "Death Valley:"

"I say 300 of us went in there and 40 of us went out.

"Most died of malnutrition. The men got so hungry we ate dog a couple of times."

Pfc. Virgil A. Kaver, 23, of Marthasville, Mo., said he had a bad neck wound and was sick most of the time "in the mining camp at Death Valley.

"I was beaten by the Chinese because I was unable to carry a load of wood. The Chinese beat me on the back with a rifle butt."

Later conditions improved, he said, when he was moved to Camp One. But, he added, persons who talked back during indoctrination lectures were placed in "jail...in cages that you couldn't stand up in and you could be sent there for just saying things out of the way at Communist lectures."

Across the road from Freedom Village is the Republic of Korea Fifth Mobile Hospital which is processing returned South Korean soldiers. An officer working there said a ROK returnee told him the Reds prohibited POWs from displaying POW camp signs in the hopes the camp would be hit by a U. N. air raid.

"The Reds refused the prisoners' request that they should mark the camp," he said.

Born Oct. 15, 1867, in South Bloomfield Township, Morrow County, he was a son of Wilbur and Mary Ann Wolfe Barr. He was a retired farmer.

Say Herbert Set For Federal Post

WASHINGTON (AP)—The path appeared clear today for early approval by the Senate Judiciary committee of former Gov. Thomas, J. Herbert of Ohio to be a member of the Subversive Activities Control Board.

Herbert conferred Thursday with Chairman Langer (R-ND) of the committee and later called at the offices of Sen. Hendrickson (R-NJ) and Hennings (D-Mo).

John McElroy, administrative assistant to Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio) told a reporter later he received informal assurances from Langer that Herbert is "all set."

A judiciary committee aide told a reporter Herbert's name probably will come before the full group at its next regular meeting day Monday.

The aide also said it is likely the nomination of Howard Botts of Wilmington to be U. S. Marshal in Southern Ohio may also be considered by the committee on Monday.

Subcommittee action on Botts' nomination was postponed several weeks ago after William Sweet, probation officer in the Clinton County, O., Juvenile Court, criticized Botts' conduct as county sheriff.

A committee investigator visited Wilmington and since has made a report to the senators, contents of which have not been disclosed.

Soldier Son Calls Family From Korea

A Marion couple received a pleasant surprise one morning recently when their son, a corporal in Korea, called them from there.

Cpl. William C. Purcell told his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Purcell of 581 Cherry St., then everything was fine and that he was in good health.

The call was received about 6:30 a.m. April 10 and the entire family got to talk to him for about eight minutes. The call came from Korea to Oakland, Cal., on short wave radio and was relayed from there to Marion by long distance telephone.

It was the first time the family had talked to Cpl. Purcell since he left for Korea in January of 1952.

Cpl. Purcell is serving with the 122nd Military Police and has been stationed at Vijongbu since arriving in Korea near the end of January, 1952. His regular job is escorting servicemen to the front and recently he is part of military police escorts taking part in transferring prisoners of war in Korea to Panmunjom.

He attended Edison Junior High School before entering the service in March, 1951, and received his basic training at Ft. Eustic, Va. He was transferred to Indiantown Gap, Pa., for assignement and then sent overseas.

Police Chief Held For Grand Jury At New Boston

PORTSMOUTH, O. (AP) — Police Chief Fred Brown of suburban New Boston was bound over Thursday to a Scioto County grand jury on a charge of assault and battery.

Mayor Vernal G. Riffe of New Boston acted at the request of Brown who waived preliminary hearing and posted $100 bond.

Eugene Scherer, former New Boston patrolman, lodged the charge against Brown. He accused the police chief of "throwing" him down a flight of stairs during an inspection of New Boston City Hall and jail. The jail is on the second floor.

Scherer said Edge H. Hale, candidate for city solicitor, accompanied him to City Hall when the incident occurred.

Brown claimed the men were "snooping around." He said he planned to file charges of loitering and trespassing against them. The police chief said the city ordinance made him custodian of the building.

Ohio's Coal Production Hits High Mark

37,800,000 Tons Dug in 26 Counties During Year

COLUMBUS, O. (AP) — Figures from county auditors show the value of coal produced at Ohio mines in one year is more than 12 times the assessed value of all coal land in the state.

State Auditor James A. Rhodes made that report today to Rep. Joseph H. Avellone (D-Cuyahoga). Avellone asked information on the tax listing of coal, gas and oil lands in the state.

The figures showed 37,800,000 tons of coal dug in 26 counties in 1951. The value at the mines was $142,400,000. The assessed value of coal land in 20 counties was $1,800,000.

Belmont County, producer of more than one-fourth of Ohio's coal accounts for almost 35 per cent of the coal land listed for taxation. The County's 1951 coal output was 9,700,000 tons, valued at $38,100,000.

Stark County ranked first in the assessed value of natural gas holdings. The total was one million dollars. The state's total was $2,900,000. Perry County led in the assessed valuation oil land at $721,000. The state total was $3,900,000.

Limestone removed in Ohio during 1951 was valued at $51,200,000. Ottawa County led with an output worth $8,600,000. Portage County led in sandstone with an output valued at $1,900,000. The state total was $11,100,000. Ohio's clay output was valued at $7,800,000 with Tuscarawas County accounting for $1,900,000 worth.

Hamilton County leads in sand and gravel, Stark County in shale.

New Car Awaits Cincinnati GI Freed by Reds at Panmunjom

CINCINNATI (AP) — There is a shiny new automobile that sits out in front of 4123 Ivanhoe in suburban Norwood.

It's the car Joe L. Jewell asked a few months ago to have bought for him and "broken in." )

Joe's request, sent from a prisoner of war camp in North Korea, was received in February. His brother, Charles, bought the automobile a few weeks ago.

Today Charles and his mother, Mrs. Kate Jewell, were aroused from their sleep and received the telephone information that Joe, 23, a prisoner for more than two years, had been released in the exchange of prisoners with the Chinese Communists.

A half hour later, a reporter found the mother and brother happy over Joe's release but worried again.

"It still hurts," said the pleasant Mrs. Jewell, "and it will until I learn what is wrong with him."

Then she explained she had received approximately 15 letters from Joe since he has been a prisoner and that "there never was a sign that anything was wrong with him."

"That's the reason I just knew he wouldn't be in this bunch (the exchange of sick and wounded)," she said.

Just then Mrs. Jewell was called to the telephone again and the brother, Charles, admitted he had been worried after receiving Joe's last two letters. They came about a week ago and were written in December.

"They just didn't sound like him," he explained but he added that he recognized his brother's handwriting.

"He even said in one of them to 'forget the automobile' but I already had bought it," Charles continued.

Charles said Joe had expressed a desire in one of his letters to enter the ministry. Other letters contained the information that he was being treated well and was "getting fat."

He said nothing had been censored from letters the family had received but the brother added wryly:

"We don't know how many letters he wrote that we didn't receive."

Joe, a corporal, has been in the Army for five years. He was reported missing in action in December, 1950, and a year later was reported as a prisoner of war.

The Jewell are natives of Winchester, Ky., and came to Cincinnati eight years ago. Joe's father is dead. Besides Charles, he has another brother, Sherman of Middletown. Both are veterans of World War II. He also has two sisters, Mrs. Geneva Kindred of Louisville and Mrs. Rose Marie Kindred of Winchester, Ky.

Mrs. Jewell said information they received was that Joe was captured at Chosung Reservoir along with three other members of a communications crew.

Delaware Murder Trial Date To Be Fixed Soon

Special to The Star

DELAWARE—A date for the trial of Robert Robinson, 23-year-old Columbus man indicted for first degree murder in the "suicide pact" death of Miss Joyce Halley, 17, is expected to be set, yet this week.

L. Dennis Marlowe and F. M. Marriott, Robinson's attorneys, indicated they expect to be far enough along with their investigation and preparation of their defense for the fixing of a trial date this week.

Common Pleas Judge O. W. Whitney said the selection of a list of jurors to set in the case will immediately follow the fixing of a trial date.

A stipulation that jurors drawn for duty in first degree murder trials must be given 15 days' notice of a trial date makes it impossible to open the Robinson trial before mid-May.

Ex-Marion Man Author Of New Novel

Jesse Buel Ralston Writes Story Of Huk Revolution

A former resident of Marion and a graduate of Harding High School, Jesse Buel Ralston, now of Vallejo, Calif., is the author of a recently published novel, "Red Ravage."

Ralston, a materials requirement specialist at Mare Island Naval Shipyard near Vallejo, resided on Davids St. when he lived in Marion. After graduation from Harding at the age of 16 he joined the army. He was discharged after five years' service in the Philippines, but remained there as a civilian navy employee at Cavite Navy Yard until 1939. He was then transferred to the Charleston, S. C., Naval Shipyard and then to Subic Bay in 1946, where he was civilian personnel officer for five years. Altogether Ralston spent 14½ years in the islands, where the action of his "Red Ravage" takes place.

The book describes through the median of a World War II GI, a Communist-inspired Huk revolution in the islands. The ex-soldier remains in the Philippines following his discharge and later becomes a soldier of fortune as a result of the struggle between the Communist - sponsored revolution and the pro-American Filipinos.

Ralston completed the final draft of his novel last July after seven months' work. It is his first commercial authorship, although several of his articles have been published in fraternal magazines. He considers writing an interesting and worthwhile avocation and usually works three or four hours a night on it. His other hobbies include deep-sea fishing, golf and photography.

The former Marionite is married and the father of four children. His brother, Carl, resides north of Marion, and a number of aunts and uncles live here. His father, Hugh, resides in Tucson, Ariz.

Marion Student To Sing Lead In College Operetta

William John Goff, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Dwight Goff of 418 S. Grand Ave., will sing the male lead of Sigmund Romberg's masterpiece, "The Student Prince," which will be presented May 1 and 2 at Otterbein College at Westerville. The production is sponsored by the speech and music departments.

Goff was graduated from Harding High School in 1951. There he was a member of the A Cappella choir, band and the boys' ensemble called the "Seven Blended Voices." He was in his freshman and junior class plays and has sung many solos in and around Marion.

At Otterbein he is a member of Pi Beta Sigma fraternity and is a soloist with the A Cappella choir. He is majoring in voice and sociology.

"The Student Prince" is replacing the traditional May Day play at Otterbein College. The operetta is built around "Heidelberg" where Prince Karl Franz falls in love with the commoner and the girl refuses to accept his love because of reasons of state.

Mary Ann

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—There is an 82-year-old girl in town from out of town who still can say "no."

Mrs. R. W. Hitchcock is the queen bee of the annual rendezvous of American newspaper publishers.

"Mary Ann, I love you," says many a visiting Romeo, forgetting the problems of rising pulp paper costs as he bends to kiss her.

And Mary Ann is a girl who doesn't see why she should have to say no to anybody today after more than 60 years of living with the same newspaperman.

The guy she has spent her life with is a sprightly 85-year-old former schoolteacher who puts out newspapers in both Minnesota and South Dakota. And since they are both Republicans nothing refreshed them so much as the last election.

Mary Ann, however, isn't even at 82 the kind of a girl you want to mis-spend an evening with talking about politics. She is feminine and attractive, and all the prosperity - worried elderly publisher widowers buzz around her as if she were still a free girl.

This tickles her. She has a belly-laugh chuckle at the attentions of men, and it is fun to romance her.

"I taught school in a sodhouse in Kansas," she said, "and people lived in sodhouses then. But my mother refused to do it. She told the man who wanted to marry her that she wouldn't marry him until he built a real house for her."

Well, the poor guy finally rustled up the timber somehow in a period when Kansas wasn't noted for its lumber.

"Now Mary Ann," I said, "does not that only prove you come from proud flesh?"

"No," she said, "you just have to stand for something, that's all'.

Mary Ann came to town in a wheel chair. Been discommoded for years. Fell and broke a bone. Bones are a real nuisance to a young girl in her eighties.

"Now, Mary Ann," I said, "tell me the truth. A lady in her eighties can certainly afford to. Were you ever a bad girl?"

"No," she said spiritedly. "I wasn't. I know that, and Mrs. Hitchcock does, too. I will say, however, that after being married for 60 years to the same man a woman still has something to look forward to."

I asked why Mary Ann had bothered to make the effort at 82 to come all the way from South Dakota to New York, and she said, wryly wrinkling her dimple:

"I just want to know about life! I hear there is so much of it here."

A game girl on a game leg. "Mary Ann, I love you," born a generation behind you — but with you.

Intersection Gets New-Type Traffic Light

Prohibits Turns At Prospect St.; Part Of Congestion Solution

Marion city officials continued efforts to find solutions to traffic congestion problems in the downtown area with installation of new lenses in the traffic light at W. Center and Prospect Sts.

The plain green lenses in the light has been replaced with new lenses which are masked so that only an arrow lights up when the green light is lit.

For northbound traffic on S. Prospect St. the arrow points straight up indicating traffic may continue straight through the intersection with no right or left turns allowed. This is also emphasized by a sign hanging below the light warning that no right or left turns are permitted.

On the other three directions through the intersection right turns are permitted but no left turns are allowed.

Signs below the traffic light on the east, north, and south sides and arrows in the lenses on these sides direct that traffic may proceed straight ahead or may turn right only.

There are crossed arrows in these lenses, one which points straight up to indicate traffic may continue straight ahead and one pointing to the right indicating traffic may turn right.

Police Captain Clyde Hardin warned that beginning Monday police will begin rigid enforcement of the no-turn rules at the intersection. Offenders will be issued tickets which carry a penalty of $3, he said.

The signs hanging from the light and the new green arrows replace the former sign erected in the center of the intersection, Captain Hardin said.

Girl, 4, Injured In Auto-Truck Collision

Gilda Rall, 4, of near Cardington, suffered minor injuries in an auto-truck collision on Route 95, three miles east of Marion Thursday at 8:20 a.m., according to the highway patrol report.

The car driven by Violet Rall, 28, of near Cardington ran into a truck driven by Edgel Whitaker, 32, of 389 Fahey St., Marion, which was attempting a right turn into a driveway. Damage to the car was considerable while the truck received minor damage.

The Rall child was taken by a passing motorist to Marion City Hospital, where she was treated for a chin laceration and released.

Ancient machines for throwing projectiles were so effective that they continued in use long after the first crude cannon appeared.

MISS MARY L. SCOTT

Missionary To China Will Lead Nazarene Services

Miss Mary L. Scott, missionary returned from China, will be in Marion for week-end services at First Church of the Nazarene. She will be heard Saturday night, when she will show pictures of China, and at both morning and evening services Sunday. Her message will be on conditions in China and the effects of Communism on the Christian Church.

For seven years a missionary in China, she has served as executive secretary for the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society, Church of the Nazarene, since 1950. This organization is composed of 90,000 members dedicated "to pray and pay for missions." Going to China first in September, 1940, Miss Scott served in Hopei Province, North China, until captured by the Japanese in December, 1941. She was held until August, 1945, most of the time in internment camp at Shantung. After a brief furlough in this country, she went to China again in 1947 to Kiangsi Province, South China but was forced to return here in 1949 by the political upheaval. Previous to her missionary service she taught English two years at Olivet Nazarene College at Kankakee, Ill., her alma mater, then she taught five and a half years at Hammond, Ind., her birthplace. She received a Master's Degree from the University of Michigan. Her headquarters are at Kansas City, Mo., and she now travels extensively as a missionary speaker.

Contractor Plans Housing Development

A hearing on a petition by Dennis L. Trachsel, requesting a road or outlet through the land of others, was held in the Marion County Commissioners' office Thursday morning.

Trachsel, in the petition filed with the commissioners on March 20, asks that they authorize a county road as an extension of Indiana Ave. to the east. The road now is a private drive leading to The Woods, a new housing development.

Trachsel, president of the General Contracting Company, wants the road as an inlet to land on which he plans to build homes for sale.

The commissioners viewed the proposed improvement on April 9, and Thursday continued the hearing until May 14 at 10 a.m. so that Trachsel could file his road plans with the Marion Planning Commission.

He informed the commissioners he also may ask City Council to open up Church St. to the east. Approximately 10 land-owners affected by the proposed improvements were present at the meeting Thursday.

the Eaton Manufacturing Co. plant which is being constructed on Route 95, just west of Marion, at 12:55 p.m. Thursday when fire broke out in several tar kettles used in constructing a roof for the new plant.

Chief O. A. Sifritt said apparently a piece of heavy tar dropped into one of the kettles, causing the contents of boiling tar to splash out into adjacent kettles. Three of the containers caught fire, but damage was minor, according to the report.

Engines from the W. Center St. and Central stations answered the call.

Bob Strimer Speaks

Edison Athletes Hear Talk By OWU Mentor

By GARY SAMS

Bob Strimer, basketball coach, assistant football coach, and golf coach at Ohio Wesleyan University, told Edison Junior High School athletes that they "gained a great deal more than the game" itself at the annual sports dinner honoring football and basketball players, managers and cheerleaders at Edison Thursday night.

Speaking to approximately 75 persons, Strimer listed things the boys learned from playing athletics. He named the ability to control yourself under any circumstances, and learning to play against a boy of another race. The game teaches loyalty, he said.

Strimer told the group that many athletes think they should be on a different standard than anyone else. He warned that athletes should be the first to hand in their assignments when assignments are due.

He told the audience then the opportunity to participate in sports is the greatest thing a boy can have, and told them to ask no quarter and be grateful for the opportunity.

Strimer said the world was divided into three classes. He said there are the few who make things happen, the many who watch things happen, and the vast majority who do not know what is happening. He told the athletes "you can be those few" and added "you never want to be in that last class."

"You respect perfection in anyone regardless of race, color or creed," he concluded.

Awards were presented after remarks by Pete Howison, Harding football and baseball coach; Ken Somerlot, Harding track and cross country coach; J. E. Frew, Edison principal; and Don Zeisler, assistant coach at Edison to George Whitehead.

Mrs. T. H. Southerland, cheerleader instructor, who was assisted by Miss Dorothy Caldwell the past season, presented cheerleader awards to Linda Linscott, Dorcas Falor, Judy Speck, Connie Morrison, Elaine Coy, and Judy Jay.

Coach George Whitehead presented football certificates to Ted Firstenberger, Dave Townsend, John Arthur, Larry Coy, Glen Tackett, Bob Place, Jud Scott, John Hendel, Ed Welch, Gary Huber, Dick Parshall, Harold Jones, Tom Hazen, John Burns, Phil Luke, Gary Williams, Dick Brown and to managers, Jerry Thomas, Dick Hart, Bob Grover and Vance Dutton.

Basketball certificates were handed by Coach Whitehead to Tom Hazen, Phil Luke, Lowell McFann, Gary Huber, Harold Jones, Bob Pace and Mike Shields and to managers, Jerry Thomas and Vance Dutton.

Special awards were presented by Coach Whitehead to Gary Williams for the best foul shooter on the reserve team with 62.5 per cent average and to Harold Jones for the best foul shooter on the varsity team with 57.9 per cent.

Miniature basketballs went to all boys who were members of the Edison basketball team. Receiving them from Coach Whitehead were Ed Rudolph, George Powell, Bob Grover, Lowell McFann, Tom Hazen, John Arthur, Mike Shields, Bob Pace, Harold Jones, Larry Coy, Gary Huber and Phil Luke.

The dinner, prepared by the Edison PTA mothers, was served by Edison home economics class girls.

Invocation was by the Rev. H. V. Falor, pastor of the Oakland EUB Church, and the benediction by Larry Coy, a member of the football and basketball teams. Hugh

Report Miami U. Student Missing

CLEVELAND (AP)—A 19-year-old Miami University honor student and varsity wrestler from suburban Maple Heights has been missing since Sunday night.

The last time Roger H. Tammen Jr. was seen was at 8 o'clock that night at Fisher Hall, the college dormitory at Oxford, O., where he lived. At first his roommate thought little of it because he thought Tammen was spending the night at his fraternity house, Delta Tau Delta.

The search for Tammen is being conducted by the sheriff's office in Butler County, where the university is located, and by the State Highway Patrol.

The youth's father is an insurance clerk for the Grand Lodge of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen here.

The parents said another son, Richard, is a freshman at Miami. None of the family was able to suggest a place where young Tammen could be.

Goering Auto Well Worn

Cars Can Be History

LONDON (AP)—A massive, dilapidated gray-green auto that once trailed terror behind it is standing forlornly in a London back street car mart. Hermann Goering once owned it.

Its paintwork scratched and dirty, its cushions and upholstery ripped and torn, a mobile fortress with steel plating covering the doors and floor, it was bought for around $3,000 by 44-year-old Raymond Way, London car dealer who makes a hobby of collecting cars infamous and famous and showing them for charity.

Way started buying history in cars last summer, with the palatial Canadian-built Buick used by the Duke of Windsor at the time of his abdication 15 years ago.

He bought that for $1,200 and has raised over $11,000 for charity with it.

His collection includes a car once owned by Winston Churchill when he was boss of the Admiralty at the beginning of World War II, the runabout owned by missing foreign office diplomat Donald MacLean, and a car which once belonged to Eva Braun.

Way calls the Windsor car the cream of the bunch. In almost perfect condition, the car is crammed with gadgets which include a microphone for communicating with the driver, a sound-proof rear compartment, button controlled blinds, a picnic outfit, makeup box and a writing desk.

Facing Chair But Gives Bride Away

VENTURA, Calif. (AP)—Yesterday was a fateful day for Walter T. Byrd.

He was twice taken from his jail cell to Superior Court—the first time to be sentenced to die in the gas chamber for the fatal shooting of his wife, the second time to give away in marriage his daughter, Gracelee, 16, to William Wayne Rogers, 18.

His daughter requested his presence, although she testified against him in his recent murder trial.

Freed of Murder Charge, Man Now Faces Civil Suit

COLUMBUS, O. (AP)—A man acquitted of the murder of a Columbus woman now faces a civil action in connection with her death.

He is George Phillips, 25, of Columbus, who was found innocent in November, 1951, of second degree murder in the death of Mrs. Ruth Alter.

Thursday, the husband of the dead woman, Russell V. Alter, filed a $75,000 damage action against Phillips for "wrongfully, unlawfully, maliciously and intentionally" killing Mrs. Alter.

Alter also filed a $25,000 damage suit against Franklin County Sheriff Ralph J. Paul. He said Paul falsely arrested him "without a warrant and without reasonable or probable cause." he said the arrest humiliated him and injured his reputation.

Mrs. Alter was found dead in her home April 25, 1951.

$8 Million Set Aside in Budget

32,000 State Employees Slated for Raise in Pay

COLUMBUS, O. (AP)—The budget approved by the House Finance Committee to run the state for the next two years contains eight million dollars for salary increases.

Some 32,000 state employes will get the money in 5 per cent pay raises starting July 1 if the budget wins final approval.

The House expects to vote on the budget trimmed to 823 million dollars Thursday.

Majority Leader C. Stanley Mechem (R-Athens) said the Senate will need about six weeks to work over the big money bill when it comes from the House. That indicated a mid-June wind-up for the Legislature. It ended its 16th week Thursday.

Enactment of the budget usually signals the end of a session. Expressed sentiments indicate the legislators will be ready for home by then, even if the recently installed Statehouse air conditioning system is working. It isn't as yet.

The state payroll is geared to the federal consumers price index. Changes in the index required the increases for the next biennium, Finance Chairman J. Frank McClure (R-Ashland) explained.

Democrat Gov. Frank J. Lausche included five millions in the budget he submitted. The other three millions will come out of funds earmarked for highway, liquor control and wildlife license departments.

The three millions brought Lausche's budget to 834 millions in comparison with the committee's 823 millions.

Lausche's budget contained 215 million dollars for schools during the next two years. They got about 208 millions for this biennium.

The Finance Committee chopped about 10½ millions from the budget's general fund with the expectation that it would be added to the school subsidy. That left the House about two million dollars short of the 227½ millions GOP leaders want for schools.

Chairman William L. Manahan (R-Defiance) said the House Education Committee will not act on its school appropriation bill until after the House passes the budget measure. He said he didn't know where another two millions for schools would come from under the present setup. The House might leave that for the Senate to decide.

The Senate Education Committee approved a bill to give schools 253 millions, but it is hung up in the rules committe. Majority Republicans are committed against new taxes for schools.

Republicans say new taxes will be allowed on a highway program.

No. 5: Stephen. Ruled England 1135-1154.

Ancient engraving of Stephen in battle armor. He was last of English kings of House of Normandy. He died of what his doctors called an "iliac passion."

Flags of Stephen's time were personal banners borne on wheels like this.

Born: 1100, grandson of William the Conqueror and nephew of Henry I. There's nothing good that can be said about him. Some authorities pick him as the worst of all English kings. Stephen was brought up by Henry I, knighted and presented estates in England and Normandy. In 1126, he headed a group of nobles who swore allegiance to Henry's daughter, Matilda, as successor to the throne. Upon the king's death, however, Stephen hastily secured support and claimed the throne himself. This plunged England into virtual anarchy. His whole reign was a constant struggle of his forces with those of his cousin. At one point, Stephen was captured and Matilda, for a short period, reigned as "Lady of the English." She made the mistake of not killing him and he regained the throne. It's estimated that one-third of the population died during the strife of his reign.

Marion Davies Sued By Night Club Owner

LOS ANGELES (AP)—"With great reluctance," nightclub owner Charlie Morrison has sued Marion Davies for $12,000.

His complaint, filed yesterday, says that was the cost of food and drink at a fancy party the former actress tossed at her Beverly Hills estate last October in honor of Morrison's daughter, Marilyn, and her new husband, Johnny Ray, a singer.

Morrison, owner of Hollywood's Mocambo nightclub, catered the party. He sued only after trying for five months to collect, he said.

Miss Davies, whose party was one of filmland's most lavish in recent years, had no immediate comment.

Her guests of honor have since separated.

ing Airplane Company. He was killed when a four-engine KC97 plowed into logged off land 70 miles southwest of here and 40 miles from where its crew had abandoned it over the Fort Lewis Military Reservation.

The big plane was on a test flight before being turned over to the Air Force as a military air freighter. A few minutes after leaving Boeing Field here, one of the plane's engines exploded.

The pieces knocked away a large section of the tail surface, making the craft virtually unmanageable. The pilot, Capt. Charles Cresswell, nursed the plane from 500 feet up to 5,000 feet then he ordered the other nine men aboard to jump. He followed after setting the plane's automatic pilot.

Cresswell said no one knew Rondeau was aboard and "I don't know what we would have done if we had known about him then. Every authorized crew member and passenger has to have a parachute. There was no other chute aboard..."

Rondeau's mutilated body was found in the lower tail section, where he is believed to have stowed away on his ill-fated ride.

Boeing officials said they could not understand why he was aboard the plane.

Bible Words to Live by

My favorite verse is from a Psalm:

PSALM 16:6. "The lines are fallen unto me in pleasant places; yea, I have a goodly heritage."

Daily incidents are continually reminding me of the goodness of God. I cannot eat a meal, look at our automatic washing machine or see the prosperity of the members of my congregation without being reminded of these words of David. It is sweet to enjoy the material comforts and to pause to consider the pleasant places into which we have come. We need to remember how our forefathers have toiled to make possible our "goodly heritage," and how much of our heritage we owe to other peoples and times.

Because of their setting these words remind me that true goodness is not all material, that the "goods" of life are not just in labor-saving devices, plenty of food, clothing and comforts. With David I find good in the company of the saints, in the guidance which God gives my path, and in the assurance that an eternal pleasure is mine through the worship and service of God.

Ike Frowns on Taking Unused Sick Leave Pay

WASHINGTON (AP)—Unless they can show clearly they have it coming, President Eisenhower has ordered all government workers appointed by him not to accept cash for unused vacation and sick leave.

This directive stands until Congress has had a chance to consider changing the law governing such leaves, the President told agency heads yesterday.

Presidential press secretary James C. Hagerty said the order stemmed from acceptance of more than $700,000 cash for earned but unused leave by officials of the Truman administration when they left office.

"We are fortunate in having increased public interest in the progress of our city and should be grateful for the strides made forward in the past few years.

"With neither attempting to deter public interest nor even intimating procrastination in supporting still further improvements, it might be well to review what we already have and what is currently in process.

"By way of explanation, it is your writer's opinion that we are in the midst of a very unusual economic period. With all respect to one of Marion's best City Councils, particularly our Financial Committee, it is suggested that we should next make a thorough financial account of ourselves, such as making sure sufficient funds are being appropriated for the preservation and proper maintenance of not only the splendid capital improvements we now have and that are currently under construction, but for the numerous governmental services which we enjoy

"If our position proves to be sound, then let us proceed with the next most important improvement, but let us proceed cau- dition, Marion needs more small industry whose products are in constant demand; the type of industry that does not come to a standstill when economic reversals in allied industries force retarded employment upon us.

"Today, Marion has more to offer industry desiring to expand and relocate than ever before, and every step necessary should be taken to add to our industrial growth.

Ohio Woman Writes About Trip To Russia

Describes Dances And Conversations With Russian Women

ALLIANCE, O. (AP)—The colorful folk dances at the Tschaikowsky Concert Hall were a superb performance by people who love to dance, says an Ohio woman who visited Moscow recently.

Mrs. Martha M. Hoiles, writing for the Alliance Review, saw the performance during the recent visit with a group of American newspaper and radio people.

"I love the ballet and to see Ulanova, the premiere danseuse of the Soviet Union, dance in Red Poppy. It was an artistic performance by a brilliant dancer," Mrs. Hoiles wrote. She continued:

"The lovely 'Swan Lake' was danced by Maja Plisezkaja, and after the performance we as a group were taken back stage and met these two dancers who so perfectly interpret that part of the theater that means so much in the tradition of the Russian people."

She told of the "fabulously" beautiful treasures she saw in the museum in the czar's palace, including the beautiful design of the famous Easter eggs Czar Nicholas II had commissioned for his czarina.

"A conversation that I shall long remember," Mrs. Hoiles wrote, "was one that Jane McIllvaine and I had with three Russian women on the Metro subway line. They could speak English and we were conversing back and forth and the first one said:

" 'Some day I would like to come to your country, as you have come to mine.'

"The second woman told us, 'I don't think that I shall ever get to the United States, but I hope that my child will.' Then the third participant in our discussion spoke these words:

" 'We shall all come when all the world is Communistic.'

"We visited the two branches of the Moscow University, where with their library of 1,900,000 books, the students from all over the Soviet Union come to study.

"In our eight days spent in Moscow, it has been our privilege to attend several social functions, not only at the American Embassy as the guests of charge d'affaires of the United States of America and Mrs. Beam; a party given in our honor at the Moscow House of Journalists by the Soviet press and several private parties.

"According to the foreign correspondents here, this represented the first time in several years that peoples of the two countries had met on pleasant social grounds. I sincerely hope that it indicates a trend toward better relations between our two countries.

"If groups like ours meeting in pleasant social contacts with the peoples of the Soviet Union, can further that trend and improve international relations between the United States and Soviet Russia, then our visit will have made a definite contribution."

Ike Achieves Harmony

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower's determination to get along with Congress has been one of the most consistent features in all his news conference since he took office last January.

He really works at it. And he's making his Cabinet and the other men around him work at it, too. Vice President Nixon said as much last night in a speech in New York before a branch of the American Newspaper Publishers Association.

Eisenhower's policy of being nice to Congress is conscious, deliberate and careful and, as Nixon indicated, rooted in the belief that a soft word turneth away wrath and will win congressional support.

The President gave a good example of his method at yesterday's news conference. On Wednesday the House voted down his administration's request to build 35,000 low-cost dwelling units, a program begun under former President Truman.

Eisenhower said, when asked, that he didn't agree with the House action. But he quickly added he was sure the House members had voted according to their consciences and besides he had not asked them to support the housing program.

He noted the Senate hasn't acted yet. If the Senate reverses the house action, the House members might be more willing to do an about-face than if Eisenhower had antagonized them by blasting them yesterday.

Nixon said of Eisenhower:

"He consistently reminds the members of his Cabinet that it is the responsibility of the administration to gain congressional support for their policies through persuasion rather than through threats and strong-arm tactics.

"While those instances when a controversy develops between the White House and the Congress will be magnified and will make the news, there is one prediction I can safely make. . . .

"It is that President Eisenhower will have the overwhelming support of Congress for the program he presents to it."

This may be an accurate forecast. Eisenhower so far has had congress' blessing on most of what he wanted, although nothing of major importance has been acted on so far.

There has been one notable exception. He asked Congress to approve a resolution condemning the Russians for enslaving people. But Congress wouldn't approve unless they could include criticism of dealings with the Russians by his predecessors, Presidents Roosevelt and Truman, which Eisenhower left out.

When the Republicans who control Congress saw the democrats in the Senate wouldn't go along, they ditched the whole idea.

This was a defeat for Eisenhower. But he didn't fuss about it. Maybe he felt it wasn't important enough.

His assistant, Sherman Adams, said yesterday that those who look for the President to make an attack on Congress are going to be disappointed. He was talking to the Republican Conference of Women Leaders here.

The deeper question in this policy of being nice with Congress does not involve attack or tongue-lashing. Rather, it is this;

Will Eisenhower follow the be-nice policy at any cost? It gets down to a question of leadership. If he remained mild when he saw Congress tearing his program to tatters, Congress would be providing the leadership.

Eisenhower apparently feels that with the policy he's following this kind of situation won't arise.

Robin Roberts Hurls Phils to Sweep of Brooklyn Series

Yankees Increase Lead On Home Run By Mantle

By BEN PHLEGAR
AP Sportswriter

By now at least the Brooklyn Dodgers know that Steve O'Neill is serious when he claims his Phillies can win the National League pennant.

You can't be much more convincing than the Philadelphia club was in winning three straight from the Dodgers. O'Neill maintained all spring the Dodgers could be beaten and that he had the team that could beat them. The first chance to prove it came when Brooklyn moved into Connie Mack Stadium Tuesday night for a three game series.

Look what happened:

Curt Simmons mowed down the Bums, 7-1, Tuesday. Karl Drews stopped them, 5-4, Wednesday night. And Robin Roberts, working with only two days rest, applied the clincher last night, 6-1.

The Phils have won four straight and moved into sole possession of first place with last night's victory, a half game ahead of the idle St. Louis Cardinals. In National League day games Chicago defeated Milwaukee, 6-2, and Pittsburgh edged the New York Giants, 6-5.

The New York Yankees whipped the Boston Red Sox, 6-3, and extended their American League lead to a full game over the St. Louis Browns, who weren't scheduled. The Philadelphia Athletics beat Washington, 6-4, and the Detroit Tigers snapped a five game losing streak by trimming the Chicago White Sox, 8-4. Along with the Browns and Cardinals both Cincinnati and Cleveland had the day off.

Brooklyn got to Roberts for nine hits but the only one that paid off was Pee Wee Reese's first inning home run. Stan Lopata homered, singled and drove in three runs for the Phils. Granny Hamner also blasted one into the stands off Johnny Podres.

The Giants outhit Pittsburgh, 12-7, but the big blow in the Pirates' attack was a grand slam home run by outfielder Frank Thomas, the first of his career.

Warren Hacker weathered early home runs by Andy Pafko and Ed Mathews to post his first victory for the Cubs. He gave up only two other hits and drove in a run as Chicago went into the lead in the stands at Yankee Stadium with two men on and two out in the last of the ninth inning. Boston had tied the count in the top of the ninth of Johnny Sain, who won his second straight. Gene Woodling of the Yankees had a perfect day with four singles.

Bobby Shantz, who turned in 24 for the Athletics a year ago, finally won his first game this season as his teammates came from behind to nip the Senators.

Billy Hoeft became the first Detroit pitcher to last nine innings as he turned back the White Sox on five hits.

Carter Slight Favorite For Title Defense

BOSTON (AP)—Boston boxing idol Tommy Collins was both confident and cocky as he awaited the supreme test of his career—a shot at durable Jimmy Carter's lightweight title in their nationally televised 15-round bout tonight at the Boston Garden.

But most of Collins' admirers were apprehensive, so much so that Carter was likely to go ringward at 10 p. m. EST as a 1-2 favorite. The bout will be telecast by NBC and broadcast by ABC.

Kenn boxing students who have followed the flashy Bostonian during his six-year professional career. agree that his only chance of victory is to knockout Carter inside of six rounds. After that,they figure, Collins would be ruined by the stolid Carter's lusty body attack.

SHORT SPORTS

By John Short

The injury which shelved big Luke Easter for at least six weeks has caused many of Marion's baseball fans to shift their allegiance. Having given up on the Indians' chances without the big boy, local fans are pulling for the St. Louis Browns to continue their torrid early season pace.

SHORT

It's a long way to the end of the season and the Browns seem assured of a second division finish but the club fielded by Manager Marty Marion certainly has the potential. Marion predicts a first division finish for his team "If."

The "If" is his pitching. He says the Browns are stronger at all points but the mound corps is the question mark.

The infield probably is the most improved in the major leagues Bill Veeck's valuable prize, Bill Hunter, high-priced rookie from the Texas League, is covering the shortstop position like a veteran and Bob Elliott, at one time the National League's most valuable player, can still handle third base on any man's team. Bobby Young has been tabbed by Marion as the best second sacker in the league and power hitting Roy Sievers has been installed at first.

Johnny Groth and Vic Wertz from the Detroit Tigers along with Jim Dyck gives Marion a potent and capable outfield comparable to any in the American League.

Youthful Clint Courtney, after only one season in the majors, is recognized as one of the game's top receivers.

But despite the quick start made by the Brownies, St. Louis fans certainly can't get too enthused over the pitching prospects. Heading the staff is another Tiger castoff, Virgil Trucks. He got off to a fine start but can't expect to keep it up. Behind him are Dick Littlefield. Duane Pillette. Bob

MATTHEWS SCORES FOURTH HOMER. Milwaukee Braves Third Baseman Ed Matthews runs across home plate at Wrigley Field in Chicago as he scores a home run, his third in two days, against the Chicago Cubs. Waiting to congratulate Matthews is teammate Sid Gordon (4), right fielder, and Braves' bat boy (right). Cubs won the game, 6 to 2.

Garcia Goes To Mound For Night Game

Art Houtteman Draws Assignment For Detroit Tigers

CLEVELAND (AP) — Pitcher Mike Garcia, who has been blasted hard ever since he pinched a nerve in his right elbow, hopes he'll be his normal, winning self tonight.

Mike is the scheduled Indian starter against the Detroit Tigers in the first of a record 31-game night schedule here.

Since April 4, when he hurt his elbow in an exhibition at Wichita Falls, Tex., Garcia has pitched 13 innings. In that time, he allowed 23 runs on 33 hits, mostly solid whacks at that.

Manager Al Lopez thinks all Garcia needs is work.

Art Houtteman is to start for Detroit tonight and Saturday it will be Early Wynn.

Snead Ends First Round At Bottom

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Sam Snead provided the big surprise in the first day's play of the Tournament of Champions—but not by one of the sizzling accomplishments for which he is famous.

He did it by winding up at the bottom of the field of 20 crack golfers with an astounding 79.

That was 11 strokes back of the leaders, a pair of outsiders in the betting which this gambling center loves. They are Earl Stewart Jr. of Dallas and Lew Worsham of Oakmont, Pa., whose chief claim to fame was his upset in the 1947 National Open.

Well in contention as the tourney went into its second round today were such stars as Lloyd Mangrum, Jack Burke Jr., Julius Boros and Cary Middlecoff.

Snead may not even finish this 72-hole grind for which first prize is $10,000 and no player wins less than $1,000. The hand in which he broke a bone in 1951 is bothering him again, and he summed up his first day's performance with: "It isn't fair to the tournament or to me to be playing like this."

Snead was "sold" for $16,500 in the pre-tourney Calcutta or auction of players' chances, far ahead of second-choice Mangrum, who brought $10,000.

Records May Fall During Drake Relays

DES MOINES (AP)—The Drake Relays got under way today with the spotlight focused upon attempts for new American records in the university four-mile relay and sprint medley.

Kansas, which owned the four mile mark for a brief time last spring and now boasts of a performance under the accepted medley record, was a slight favorite in the longer race and an odds-on choice in the medley.

Some of the country's fastest sprinters and hurdlers were to make first appearances in the preliminary rounds.

The 100 yard dash field had Willie Williams of Illinois, the Big Ten indoor champ who has done :09.4, a tenth of a second under the Drake record set by the late Roland Locke of Nebraska in 1926 and twice tied. Other dashmen include Charles Tomas of Texas; Charles Teague of North Texas State and Gene Buie of the Pittsburgh (Kan) Teachers.

Drake's Saturday program, which will be televised nationally CBS, has 20 final events, and one of the features is another clash between Kansas and Georgetown in the university distance medley.

36,000 Fans To Watch Reds, Braves

Total for 4-Game Series Tops Last Season's Amount

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP)—Herman Wehmeier was due to get his first starting pitching chore tonight for the Cincinnati Redlegs as the Rhinelanders open a four-game series against the Milwaukee Braves.

Big Herman, a disappointment last year and the year before, was not too hot in spring training but excuses must be made for the guy even before he throws that first ball tonight. Bad weather has kept him out of any serious action since the final game of the exhibition game series against the Detroit Tigers.

Wehmeier's pitching opponent was expected to be Johnny Antonelli, the Braves' one-time "bonus baby" who is back after a hitch in the armed services.

The Braves front office reported it already has 36,000 tickets sold the the three-day series. That is a clue that more persons will see the Reds and the Braves here in four games in three days than saw the same two teams in 11 contests in Boston last year.

Bill Veeck, Browns owner, is still suffering from the slap in the face by the other league owners in building him up and then dashing his hopes by refusing to approve a shift of the franchise to Baltimore. He would like nothing better than to gain revenge by seeing his Browns edge the Yanks and Indians for the flag. And next year with the addition of a couple of steady hurlers, he could do the trick.

Smith was arrested as a parole violator, police said. He previously was arrested on a charge of breaking into a Morrow County school house. # Troupe Becomes Scout for Cards

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A Negro is joining the St. Louis Cardinal scouting staff, which may mean the club will soon acquire some Negro players for the first time.

The Cardinals Thursday announced Quincy Troupe, a 37-year-old Negro credited with helping other Negroes to an opportunity to play in the major leagues, had been signed as a scout.

Troupe thus becomes the first Negro to be associated with the club's player personnel.

Troupe, who lives in St. Louis, played six games with the Cleveland Indians last year before he was sent to Indianapolis of the American association.

But whom we did not save.
Heaven now protects our darling,
Earth her lovely casket keeps,
And the angels love to linger
Where our darling Jane sleeps.
There's an ache in our hearts today,
That passing years cannot take away.
A place in our hearts that nothing can fill.
We miss you so, dear little Janie, and always will.

Russia

ship this week. It ties in with a report from a reliable observer who was in Russia at the time of Stalin's death.

This observer got the impression that Stalin suddenly soured on the power ambitions of the Malenkov-Beria combination, that possibly he even suspected his power twins engineered the deaths of Andrei Zhdanov and other Stalinist leaders. Thus the arrest of the doctors and the fantastic story of their plot, all denied after Stalin's death.

This year's May Day slogans assuring Soviet citizens that they have civil rights seem to be part of the story. The doctors' plot episode must have shaken the Soviet citizenry, which is now being told that the regime in power is its protector.

The party press now is demanding all-out production on farms and in factories. The "May Day socialist competition" is going to fantastic lengths. In the Ukraine, for example, two women tractor drivers are singled out as shining examples because their brigades had tractors in operation 20 hours out of 24. All throughout the USSR, party organizations are lectured on the need for raising the norms of production.

Average indexes of production, thunders Pravda, will not do.

Chances are that while the Malenkov-Beria combine continues to build itself, there will be more and more surprising gestures from Moscow both on the domestic and cold war fronts. The latter will be aimed at creating an atmosphere of international peace while the internal buildup goes on. But when and if Malenkov and Beria feel themselves totally secure, the aggressive moves can be expected again.

Seven New Elements Can Be Identified

PHILADELPHIA, Pa. (UP)—Dr. Glenn T. Seaborg, Nobel Prize chemist, says scientists at the University of California are ready to identify the next seven new elements whenever they are "manufactured" by atomic fission or fusion.

Dr. Seaborg, head of the University's radiation laboratory, told the Philadelphia section of the American Chemical Society that the chemical properties of the next seven elements are already known and scientists can prove they exist, if given only a few hundred atoms of the new substances.
